Picture perfect for the season

Warmer temperatures of late can't stop Lakeland area skaters as they enjoy what's left of the ice at Lakewood Forest Preserve pond. This colorful clan of skaters on ice resembles Currier & Ives postcard, symbolizing beauty of the season. Winter activities have slowed due to recent warm spell, but weather reports indicate winter season will return to normal conditions very soon.—

Holtz retires, Houghton in

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

After seeing the name of R. G. Bud Holtz on their property assessment for 16 years, property owners in Antioch and Antioch Twp. will be seeing a new name bearing that title, that of Cliff Houghton. Holtz, who also sat on the Lake County

"I think that 16 years of experience qualifies me," he added.

Holtz says that he has lots of plans for the future which he does not care to reveal at present.

Houghton, superintendent of Round Lake Unit School Dist. 116, who is due to retire from that job in June of 1992, has been appointed to take Holtz's place.

Houghton, a former principal at Oakland Grade School and superintendent of Forreston Elementary School Dist., came to Round Lake as business manager of the high school in 1968.

He told Lakeland Newspapers a few months ago that he would be trying for the Antioch Twp. assessor's job as soon as Holtz announced his retirement.

According to Antioch Twp. Supv. Jim Fields, Houghton was appointed on Jan. 4, after a meeting of the town board concerning the fact that Holtz had not filed for and passed the annual mandated assessor's recertification. Houghton is a certified assessor.

Houghton announced his planned retirement from the Round Lake district last fall, citing the growing controversy concerning his salary of $88,000 becoming an upcoming election issue as his reason.

At present, Houghton will continue his duties in Round Lake and do the assessor's job on a part time basis, working for the township evenings and Saturdays.

Board for one term until it was mandated that being both an assessor and county board member was a conflict of interest, announced his retirement last week.

"I decided to retire a short time ago instead of going to more classes. They want assessors to learn computers and they never take them out to see a house or a subdivision," said Holtz.

County chairman reflects back on 1989

With the new decade now upon the Lakeland area, Lake County Board Chairman Norm Geary of Grayslake has expressed his satisfaction with the accomplishments of the Lake County Board as the 1980s came to a close.

Geary, elected to the chairmanship last spring, cited various accomplishments of the board in its year-end report.

In addition to citing the board's accomplishments in 1989, Geary also reflected back on some of the memorable moments which 1989 brought.

The year began, Geary states, "on a very sad note" with the untimely death of Helen Belmont Amendola, vice chairman of the board. The board honored the memory of Amendola with a memorial service and an official period of mourning in its first month of reorganization.

In March, the board recognized the 150th year anniversary of Lake County government. The report states that it was in March, 1889, that the State of Illinois designated Lake County as the 440 square miles it is today.

In addressing the accomplishments of the board over the past year, Geary cited various items, the highlights including:

Comprehensive Plan

The board set into motion a comprehensive, county-wide public evaluation process that will be completed in 1993. "This is a critical process, one that is intended to thoughtfully guide our growth throughout the decade of the 90s," Geary said.

Establishment of SAMP

Along with McHenry County, the State of Illinois (Div. of Water Resources), the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Fox River Chain of Lakes Waterway Management Agency, Lake County will participate in a two-year process designed to develop a Strategic Area Management Plan (SAMP) for the Fox River Chain of Lakes area.

The plan is designed to establish a framework for managing development and the impact of development along the Fox River Chain of Lakes waterway. The board hopes that such a plan will stimulate actions to provide for the protection of valuable environmental resources, to provide for safer boating/recreational uses and to provide for the comprehensive planning of the future land uses of the waterway area.

Solid Waste Management Plan

In September, the board approved the Lake County Solid Waste Management Plan. This document proposes a comprehensive, integrated multi-technology disposal system that will address the county's current and future solid waste disposal needs through the year 2010. Lake County's plan is the first in the state approved under the auspices of the Solid Waste Planning and Recycling Act of 1989. "The county's leadership and involvement in this serious and pressing social issue is an area of significant pride on the part of our board members," said Geary.

Land Conservation Committee

The board embarked upon a new and novel experiment during 1989 with the establishment and funding of the Lake County Land Conservation Committee. The committee's charge is to evaluate and recommend the feasibility of open space acquisition by the county board.

Stormwater Management

Storm water management continued to receive a great deal of attention by the board during the past year. The county has moved to actively draft the stormwater management plan and the related enforcement ordinance. Geary anticipates that the county board will be asked to review and act upon the comprehensive plan this April, with possible passage coming in July.

The intergovernmentally conceived Stormwater Management Planning Committee, spearheaded by Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton, has been working diligently to meet these deadlines. "This is a prime example of municipal-county cooperation working for the solution to a serious county-wide problem," the chairman asserted.

Mental Group Health Home

During 1989, the Lake County Health Dept. opened the county's first mental health group home. Constructed on the grounds of the Lake County Health Clinics, the $350,000 facility was financed by local property taxes and federal community development block grants. Up to 14 residents will reside in the home, which is expected to serve a total of 30 individuals a year.

Road Improvements

Lake county has been working closely with municipalities and the local development community to form the Lake County Road Improvement Advisory Committee. In 1990, this committee will work to recommend a county-wide ordinance designed to establish an equitable schedule of fees to pay for road improvements caused by new developments in Lake County.

Enhanced 911

The year 1989 also saw the beginning of a long-term process to bring 911 emergency telephone service to all residents of Lake County. The county board, as well as several Lakeland area communities, are moving to take all of the required steps necessary to bring this life-saving service to its residents.

New Jail

In March, the Robert H. Babcox Justice Center was opened. The facility was at capacity (280 inmates) one week later. The board moved quickly to evaluate cost-efficient options to expand the jail's capacity.

By the summer, the board approved the active conversion of one-half of the new work release facility to provide 70 new jail beds. The board has also authorized completion of floors five and six for an additional 240 beds, which will be accomplished by October of this year, Geary hopes.

Former bank vice president dies

Fox Lake area civic leaders are mourning the death of Charles Kemf.

Kempf, 74, a retired vice president of Second Federal Savings & Loan in Fox Lake, died Jan. 5 at Loyola Hospital in Maywood.

A resident of Wauconda for the past 15 years, Kempf was employed with the bank from 1975 to 1989. Previously, he owned and operated the Kempf Real Estate Co. in Chicago from 1948 to 1975.

Kempf, born in Chicago on March 6, 1915, is a veteran, having served with the Army during World War II. He graduated from Hanover College in Indiana.

He had been involved with several organizations and civic groups during his lifetime, including the Medinah Temple of Chicago, the Chain of Lakes Shriners Club, the Scottish Right - Valley of Chicago, and American Legion Post 703 of Fox Lake (Post Commanders Club).

In addition, he also was a member of the Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge in Fox

Lake, the Fox Lake Lions Club, Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce, B.P.O.E. 1218 Elks Club, Rising Sun Masonic Lodge, Fox Lake Rotary Club (past Rotary president), Lake County Republican Club and was a parishioner of St. Bede's Catholic Church in Ingleside.

Funeral services were held at St. Bede's Church and interment was at Ascension Cemetery in Libertyville.

He is survived by five daughters: Peggy (Bernard Purenne) Kempf of Canada, Elizabeth (Stephen Potter) Kempf of Switzerland, Marty (Jerry) Rosinski of McHenry, Lorraine (Richard) McIntosh of New York and Anne (Phillip) Denofrio of Berwyn; and six grandchildren.

He is preceded in death by his late wife, Anne M. Kempf (nee Rossman), who died June 17, 1977.

Ming examines options after forgery acquittal

Jerrold Ming, owner of Jerry's Parkway Foods in Fox Lake and Grayslake, may be taking legal action against a Grayslake resident who sued him.

"He will be held accountable for this," Ming said.

Ming was acquitted of forgery charges filed by Kevin Chick of Grayslake. The acquittal came after a hearing before Judge Henry Tonigan last Thursday.

"There never was and never will be any notation on the check," Ming said.

The dispute arose when

Chick, owner of Artistic Creations in Grayslake, performed contracted work at Ming's store and home.

A Sept. 23, 1988 check drawn on an account at Fox Lake State Bank, showed by Ming, is for the sum of $12,024.78 and made out to Artistic Creations.

There is no notation next to the line "for".

"We are disappointed with the judge's ruling, but we respect it," Lake County Asst. States Atty. Mike Fulton said.

Fulton said the judge ruled that the alleged notation did not constitute fraud.

Tonigan also stated the matter would better be served in civil court.

Ming charged that Chick did not pay his subcontractors and tried to coerce Ming into paying them.

The case was continued in court several times before Judge Tonigan's hearing.

"My home life has been totally disrupted over this," Ming said.

He said his wife has taken obscene phone calls, employees have quit and business has suffered.

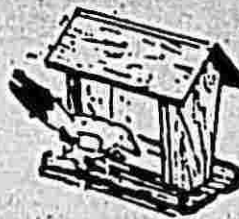

Ming said he is examining his options.

See Europe by train

by JIM WARNKEN

PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Remember the "Orient Express"? It still makes its runs between Venice and Paris and is more magnificent than ever.

But this article is not about luxury trains. Instead, we'll discuss the thousands of trains used daily by the average European and by Americans seeking the real flavor of Europe.

The beauty of the Swiss Alps cannot be appreciated from the window of a 747 at 30,000 feet. While you may not be traveling at 500 mph, you're quite likely to be zipping along at speeds in excess of 150 mph!

With the short distances between countries in Europe, you can leave Amsterdam at 7 a.m. and be in Paris by 1 p.m. Missed that train? You can catch the one at 8 a.m., or the one at 10, or any of eight others. There are over 500 trains a day leaving from Amsterdam alone. This is typical of most major cities in Europe.

Now for some specifics. Never buy a first-class ticket. There is very little difference between first and second class other than price. (Besides, the fun people ride in second class.)

If you're planning on staying 15 days or visiting more than one country, look into a Eurail pass. Price is about $300 for a 15-day pass, and $460 for a whole month. With it, you get free rail travel between 16 countries as well as passage on many buses, ferries and steamers. The pass must be purchased in the U.S. before your trip and is available from your travel agent.

If it's only one country this time, look into passes issued by that country's rail system. I recently used a German rail pass which gave free rail travel in Germany, plus unlimited travel on city buses and passage on a Rhine cruise.

For cheap sleeping accommodations onboard your train, reserve a "couchette." They're sort of like bunk beds. You'll find them quite comfortable, but with little privacy.

One last tip. Try one of the TEE, TGV, or IC trains. These are the super-fast, long distance trains. Some will require a small surcharge, but the experience is worth it.

Decry mutilated deer left on side of road

For two weeks, a workbound Bristol resident noticed a large garbage bag laying on the side of Silver Lake Rd. in Antioch. Then, just before Christmas, she noted that "the bag had been peeled back to expose a horrible sight."

Inside was the body of a mutilated, full-grown beautiful deer. The beautiful creature had been partially skinned and cut up.

When she reached home she called the Antioch Police Dept. and reported the depraved misdeed.

The police saw to it that the dead deer carcass was removed from the side of the road.

"We think someone just tossed the carcass out of a passing car since it was not set out on private property for garbage pickup," said a police department representative.

"What kind of monster would do such a horrible thing?" asks our Bristol friend?

"Could it have been one of our brave hunters proving once again that he is in control of a helpless animal? Or perhaps it was one of our children who are being taught that animals are just things to do with as they please," was asked.

Lakeland Newspapers agrees with our irate Wisconsin resident that "Whoever did this is sick and obviously has no respect for animals at all."

Tom-Tom staff shows its colors

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Formula for a successful high school newspaper: take some 25 students, add an experienced advisor, journalistic knowledge, and a dash of motivation. Let work over a hectic Sunday layout session, then sit back and watch what happens.

"The whole idea is to have students run their own business," said Mike Gordy, the advisor of the Tom-Tom, Antioch Community High School's monthly student newspaper.

"I guess we're trying to find out what it's really like to work at a newspaper," said Editor-in-Chief Tanya Albert. "We get training in all different kinds of areas. We're learning a wide variety of things that we'll use for the rest of our life."

The Tom-Tom, unlike most high school newspapers, is supported through its own student-generated advertising. Money from advertising goes into the production of the newspaper, in the form of printing, computers, software, camera equipment and supplies.

"To do the things we do takes a great deal of money," said Gordy. "Because of that, we're able to afford the computers, software, and spot color."

"I wish we didn't have to spend so much time in the pursuit of advertising," he said. "I'd like to give the kids more time to develop their research skills."

However, Gordy said that he didn't want to be totally subsidized by the school. "I think it would hurt the learning experience," he said.

The Tom-Tom has been an award-winner many times over, as witnessed by the numerous award plaques that circle the newspaper office. Given top honors from organizations such as the National Scholastic Press Assn. and Columbia Scholastic Press Assn., the Tom-Tom is run by juniors and seniors who have completed the Introduction to Journalism course.

"When they get into the intro class, it's just to show people what's there," said Gordy. The one-semester course covers basic journalistic principles of law, reporting, writing, advertising, photography, computers, and page design.

"The intro classes really help," said Albert. "It's not the advisor that picks the staff; it's the other students who pick, who know how students interact with each other."

After completing the introductory course, students may choose to apply for the newspaper staff, as reporters or as an editor of a particular department. New staff members are chosen by the senior staff members who will be graduating at the end of the year.

"When they get into the advanced class as members of the staff, they learn to polish (their) skills," Gordy said.

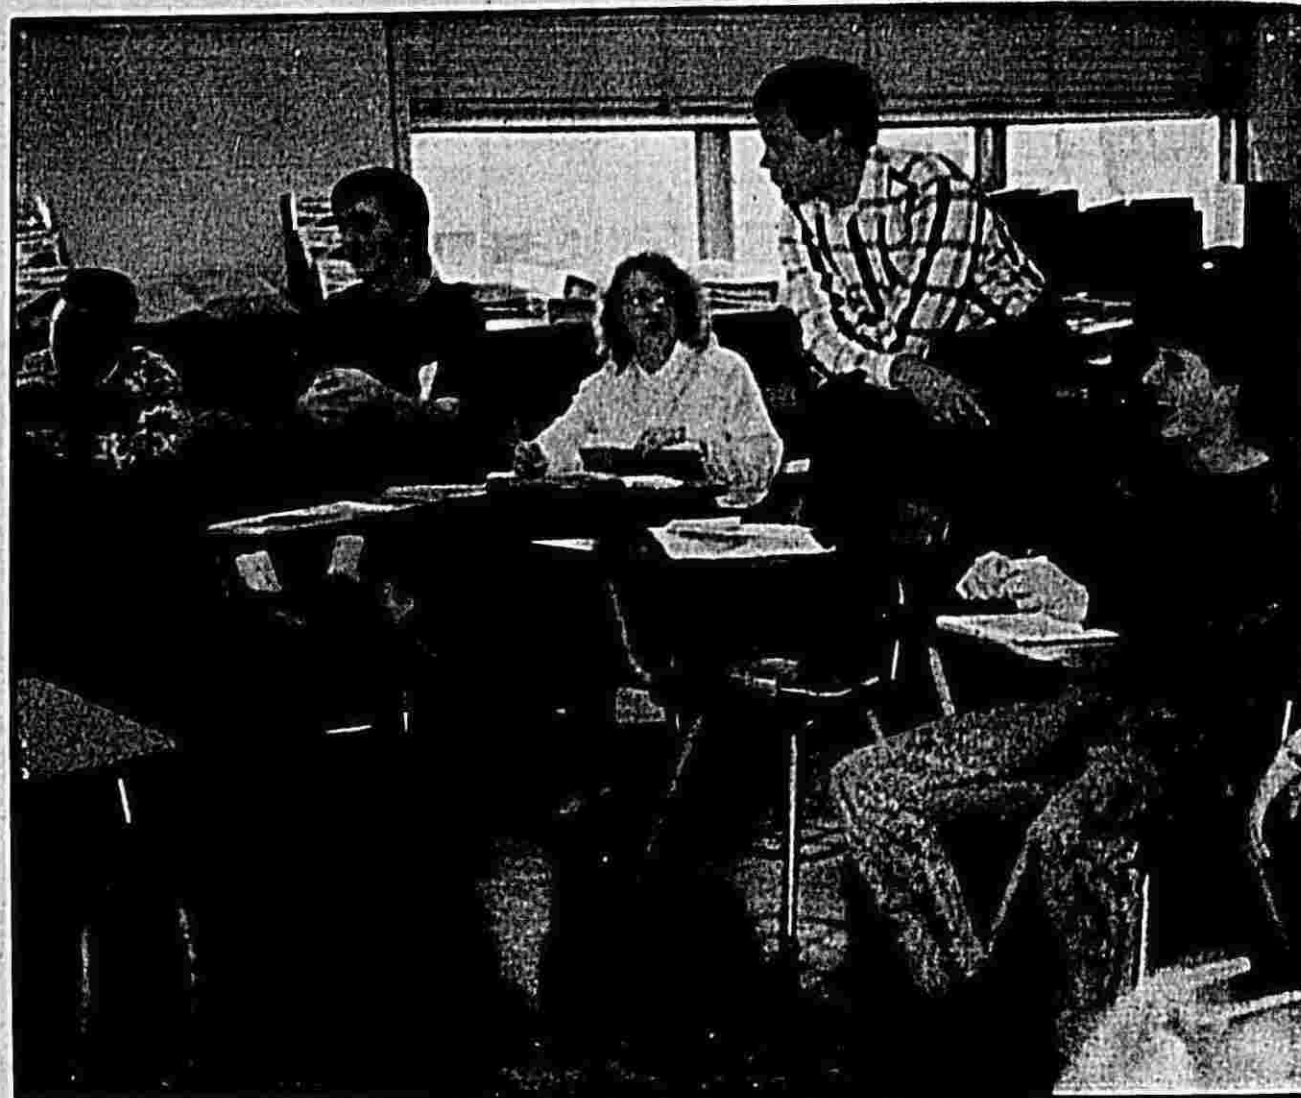

Gordy, who graduated from UW-Whitewater with a degree in journalism, has been the newspaper advisor for 13 years.

Gordy called the newspaper a "laboratory experiment," saying that he takes the advisor role literally, by giving advice once the students themselves have identified a problem.

"I want to be the guy that allows them to paint themselves into a corner and then show them ways to get out of it," Gordy said.

Both Gordy and Albert attributed a good portion of the paper's success to the staff members.

"It seems that for some reason, I keep Advisor Mike Gordy listens to the Tom-Tom staff discuss ideas for stories. Each staff member has "beats," which he or she is required to check for story ideas each month. getting real good kids," said Gordy. "I've talked to advisors from other schools that say they would do anything to get kids into their program like we have in our program."

Brainstorm

"I think we have a lot of motivated people," said Albert. "Whatever we produce is a direct reflection on the class. We want the final product to look good."

"All of us try real hard," said Managing Editor Jeff Benes.

Staff members spend free hours, after school time and one Sunday a month—all day, sometimes 14 hours—putting together the Tom-Tom. They pursue and design ads from area businesses; find, write and edit news, feature and sports stories; take pictures; write columns and editorials; design pages; and distribute newspapers each month. All members of the staff are required to do some of everything.

"When I first joined, I didn't know I'd stay two years," Benes said. "It presents a new challenge every day."

"It's always fast-moving, always something new," said Albert.

Benes said a reason for the students' hard work is pressure from past years.

"We want to remain on top," said

Benes. "A lot of it has to do with tradition. No one wants to be known as the year everything got messed up."

"Our fluctuation (from year to year) has not been that great. We've never gone to terrible," Gordy said.

"The big thing is to teach them to be aware of responsibility, so they can see the carryover," he added. "It's not just that kid and the grade anymore. If they screw up, it hurts everybody (on the staff)."

Gordy said that the way to teach students how to do a task right is to show them what it looks like when it's wrong.

"We can sit down at the end of an issue and analyze why something didn't work," Gordy said.

He said that he appreciates Antioch's administration and its support of the program. "They're not always crazy about the things we've done, but what I appreciate the most is that they realize it's a laboratory experiment and that in order to benefit from the experiment (the students) have to be allowed to try," Gordy said.

Albert said she expects the newspaper's success and awards to continue. "I think we have a real good chance this year," she said.

4 out of 5 stores sell liquor to teenagers

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

In line with the village's fight against drugs, Mayor Robert Wilton, who started the community-wide program, reacted to reports that minors can easily buy alcohol in the village, by instigating a sting operation in cooperation with the Antioch Police Dept.

Wilton, who is also the village's liquor commissioner and Larry Hanson, village trustee and assistant liquor commissioner, working with Lt. Tom Fisher and Investigative Officer Mike Culat had an undercover teenage boy and girl attempt to buy liquor in five stores in Antioch that have licenses to sell alcoholic beverages.

In four out of the five instances, the undercover teens could produce no age identification but clerks sold them the alcoholic beverages anyway.

Clerks at Bernie's Phillips 66, Checker Gas, the White Hen Pantry and Jewel Foods have been charged with selling liquor to a minor.

It was a different story at the UNOCAL

76 on North Ave, where, not only was the undercover agent's bid to buy liquor refused, but they were asked to leave the premises when the could not verify that they were of legal drinking age.

Trustee Hanson is in the process of setting up a public hearing on the matter.

Dates for the public hearing will be published when they are decided upon.

Although he says he is not aware of a particular underage drinking problem in the village, Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller reports that he has his men doing "at random" checking of village bars but the check has revealed no underage drinking to date.

Growth, Wilton are IN while drugs, Holtz OUT

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Most magazines and newspapers have come out with what's IN and what's OUT for the 1990s.

In checking back issues of the Antioch News-Reporter local history leads to the prediction that recycling, development and some school expansion will be IN in Antioch during the 1990s.

The recycling plan has already been put into the works by the Antioch Village Board and the growth of the village, its development and that of the township, has been burgeoning the last few years, evidenced by all of the annexations and subdivision approvals made by the village board and by the many others already on the docket of the planning and zoning committees.

Antioch High School is already doing a study on the possible remodeling of part of the existing school and possible expansion to meet future needs predicted by the expected growth of the enrollment of the feeder schools.

Although the school district electors turned thumbs down on the planned expansion of Emmons Grade School, the administration and school board are still trying to find a way to meet the expected increase in student numbers, consolidation with another school district being mentioned.

With the continuing push by the schools, the municipal officials, community groups and law enforcement officials, maybe sometime before the 1990s are over, drugs will be literally OUT in the Antioch area.

With the village and police department clamping down on area taverns and restaurants serving alcohol, it could be that underage drinking will also be going OUT of style here.

The village got some changes in its administration in the last election and the new look at the village hall is expected to last well into the 1990s.

With Antioch Twp. Sup. Jim Fields easily holding on to his Lake County Board seat during the last election, the township's administration should BE IN for the new few years, but new Twp. Assessor Cliff Houghton is IN and long-time assessor, R. G. Bud Holtz gains the OUT list with his retirement after 16 years of service to the township in that office.

Outstanding youth

In an effort to recognize the outstanding youth of the Antioch community, the Antioch Exchange Club selects Jennifer Harris, front left, as Youth of the Month for attaining scholastic and athletic excellence and developing qualities of leadership and civic responsiveness. Robert Gagon, club past president and Claudette Skvarce, club president (front), present award as James and Ardeen Harris, rear, student's parents, congratulate their daughter.

St. Peters sets drive, dinner

On Saturday, Jan. 27, St. Peter's Catholic Church will sponsor a community blood drive. The drive will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at the church, 557 W. Lake Ave., Antioch. Blood drive coordinator Ellen Ipsen asks eligible donors to stop in and donate.

President George Bush and LifeSource honor America's blood donors this month for their selfless contribution on behalf of the ill and injured. President Bush has declared January National Volunteer Blood Donor Month - 31 days set aside to thank those who have given in the past year - to encourage all healthy individuals to give blood.

This blood drive is held in support of LifeSource. LifeSource was formed in January, 1987, when The Blood Center of Northern Illinois and the American Red Cross established a joint venture.

St. Peter's Ribs and Bibs Dinner will be held at the school, Saturday, Jan. 13, from 5 to 8 p.m.. Proceeds will go to the school's athletic department. Tickets may be bought from the students or on the night of the dinner, $6.75 for adults and $3.75 for children.

Olenick's speedy recovery tops 'Lizard's' column

by LIZ SCHMEHL
(708)395-5380

I'd like to start this week's column off with a speedy recovery message to Fran Olenick. Recently, Fran was taken ill and hospitalized, but is now back home on the road to recovery. I know you read this column, Fran, I want you to know all of your family and friends are pulling for you and are very glad to hear you are doing so well. Hang in there, and while you are home nursing yourself, take a moment to call the Lizard with a tidbit or two. Meanwhile, follow the doctor's orders and get well soon.

Complaint Dept.

Curt Denny filed a complaint with my daughter, Karen, concerning my "wonderful" column. Curt Denny is Karen's boss at CLC. He told her he was going to write a letter to the editor complaining that I've written about my other children—Donna (the display ad salesperson), Barbara (the new bride), and Jim (the boy with the pierced ear), but I never write anything about Karen (his employee).

In order to ward off Mr. Denny's letter, I am including information about Karen in this column.

First of all, Mr. Denny, I am so happy to hear you read this column with enough interest to pick up on my omission of tidbits concerning Karen. However, I did include her in my November birthday list. Doesn't that count? You have to admit it was at least a start—right?

By the way, did you ever think to call me with a tidbit concerning her? Gotcha! Sorry I omitted you from the column, Karen. It is just that you didn't start a new job, you didn't get married, and your ears have been pierced for years.

For the information of my readers, Karen is my third child and my third daughter. I am very proud of her—even if she doesn't make this column. I am in case there is a windstorm the branches could break the electrical lines. This sounded logical to my not-so-logical mind. Recently, Marian and Ann Rohde discovered another reason why this trimming is needed.

Hometown Goodies

lucky enough to have Karen still living at home. She is presently working in the admission department at CLC.

In fact, she has been working there since graduating from ACHS (with honors) in 1987. She also attends classes at CLC (on and off), and is an all-around terrific person.

Karen, maybe next week I'll write about how I taught you how to spell hide-a-bed, or maybe I'll write about the new couch you acquired for your cottage. On the other hand, perhaps you would like to tell Mr. Denny of these incidents in your own way? Remember, I love you even when you don't make the column. Now do something new and different from time to time so I can give you adequate coverage and get off the hook with Mr. Denny. Remember, I like weddings—especially if they result in making me a grandma. Wow, would I ever give you the coverage then.

To trim or not to trim

Often times as I am out and about I notice crews out trimming trees back from the electrical wires. Being a lover of nature and one who enjoys things in their natural state, I've often remarked to my husband on why the trees must be trimmed. His thinking on the subject was

One evening, Ann was looking out of her window and noticed a flickering of lights up in the sky. She then called Marian to observe the flickering with her and they discovered the electrical wire was hitting a branch of a tree and causing it to spark.

Marian quickly dialed 911 and told the person on the other end what was happening. A police car was quickly dispatched to the area to guard the scene until the fire truck arrived.

Once on the scene, the fire department realized it was an electrical fire and must be handled by Commonwealth Edison.

Once again, the police car remained on the scene to guard the situation until Edison arrived. Edison repaired the wire with what looked like "big, black band-aids."

A few days later, the tree trimming crew was on the scene to trim back the tree that may have weakened the wire. Ann and Marian would like to thank the Lake County Sheriff's Dept., the Antioch Fire Dept. and Commonwealth Edison for taking charge of the situation so quickly.

On the other hand, I would also like to thank Ann and her mother, Marian, for noticing the sparks, realizing the danger involved and calling in the report. From now on I will realize the tree trimming crews are not out tampering with nature, they are out there to prevent mishaps of this nature. Thanks, Marian, for sharing this tidbit with us.

Wintery vacation

I am beginning to notice, more and more, that many of my friends and neighbors opt for vacations to Florida or Arizona this time of year. I find myself thinking that perhaps this is the way to go.

Instead, I find myself on a snowmobile trail in Eagle River, Wisc., experiencing the magnificent beauty of snow-covered pine trees.

In some places, the pine trees are so tall and branches so heavy with snow the tree tops touch to form an archway. We then snowmobile for miles experiencing this tunnel-like formation of trees. Nature seems to be at peace with Herself there in the north woods; not a sound to be heard except the monotonous roar of the snowmobile engines. Occasionally, we pull our machines to the side of the trail and turn off the engines to just sit back and drink in the beauty of God's winter creation.

At this moment, I know the Lizard is content to spend her life in a climate that offers the four seasons. However, when we must shovel the winter season out of our driveways or slip and slide in it on our highways, my thinking waivers a bit—only to be re-established each time I find myself on a trail in the beautiful northwoods in the winter.

Etc., etc., etc. . . .

Ardeen Harris happens to be one of my friends who prefers vacationing in a warmer climate. She recently returned from a seven-day vacation in Tucson, Ariz. Ardeen's folks, Howard and Eileen Stann, live in Tucson during the winter season and Ardeen enjoyed visiting with them after Christmas and into the new year. Hey, Ardeen, did you ever try snowmobiling in the winter?

Lorrie Christopolus, of Florida, received an extra special birthday gift this year. Two of her friends from Antioch decided to fly down to visit her in person for her Jan. 5 birthday. Lorrie was expecting her mother-in-law and went to the airport to meet her. Instead, Ardeen Harris and Judy Hansen got off the plane in her place. They planned to visit their Florida friend on Friday, Saturday and Sunday and return to Antioch on Monday, Jan. 8. I asked Ardeen if she was going to become a professional traveler—she said, "In a minute," if she ever hits it big in the lottery.

Once again, I will close the column this week with a few tidbit hellos in order to encourage you to call me with your personal news items. Hi there, Pam Clarke, Wally Henning, JoAnne Bergl, Frank Walsh, Sr., George Keefer, Debbie Mozal, Judith Kelly, Mel Knirsch, Clara Haling and Lu Belz. If you can't reach me by phone, or do not see me in person, you may also send your information to me at 41142 N. Clara Ave., Antioch, IL 60002.

Cocaine selling nets Galdine 24 years

Nicholas Galdine, has been sentenced to spend 24 years in prison for trying to sell cocaine to undercover MEG agents and the Antioch Police at Galdine Electronics.

Lake County Associate Circuit Court Judge Harry Hartel, this week sentenced Galdine to serve 24 years concurrent to the 10-year prison term he received from the Kenosha County Court, also for selling drugs.

The Lake County State's Atty.'s office had asked the judge to sentence Galdine to 20 years, to be served in addition to the 10 he will be serving in Wisconsin.

Three law enforcement agencies cooperated in Galdine's arrest last year. Drug agents from MEGS and the Antioch police arrested Galdine in a drug buy in Antioch at the same time that the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept. found guns and $50,000 in his home in Kenosha County.

According to authorities, Galdine had been selling drugs out of his Wisconsin home, his office at Galdine Electronics in Antioch and, also, The Physique Health Center in Gurnee, which he owns.

Woodland board members talk merits of Channel One show

A proposal to televise a newscast in Woodland Dist. 50 classrooms received a lukewarm response from some Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education members.

Kerri Culp, a marketing representative from Whittle Communications, explained the possible advantages of having the Channel One system installed at Woodland.

Culp said the 12 minute newscast includes four 30 second commercials.

The teachers and principals receive a monthly guide to plan for the programs.

"We were asked to make the classroom relevant to the students," Culp said.

Goals of the program include:

- sharing cultural literacy;
- create a common language;
- promote critical thinking;
- provide relevance;
- present positive role models.

Culp said if the board approves, the system could be installed for the 1990-91 school year.

Satellite dish, two central video cassette recorders and 19 inch television sets will be used to broadcast the news shows.

Later, the Classroom Channel with 1,000 hours of non-commercial programming and the educators' channel would be available.

World issues and features are covered in the 12 minutes, all with a focus on teens.

Board member Mike Brenner voiced some concern over the use of a mascara commercial for seventh graders.

"We try and pick products that are not controversial," Culp said of the commercials.

"It was extremely difficult to watch. The graphics will not show up," Brenner said.

He said for a 19 inch set, the optimum number of persons viewing is 15.

The principals or other school officials have the option of previewing a show. Culp said there is a counter on the sets and schools are asked to show the 180 programs 95 percent of the time.

Grayslake Community High School has agreed to show the newscast and will begin to do so in March. Warren High is considering it.

No final action was taken Monday.

Kristan explains assessments

Avon Twp. assessment forms were mailed out by the supervisor of assessments Dec. 22. This form is mailed out yearly by law to every property owner.

The figure on the card is to notify residents of their new assessed value for 1989. If you take the total assessed value on the card times three, that will indicate the market value of your property for 1989.

If the assessment was not published in the newspaper, your assessed value was not changed by Assessor Gerry Kristan. Your assessment was only changed due to the increasing factor of 1.0799 applied by the Lake County supervisor of assessment.

The supervisor of assessments does a study to determine the level of assessment Avon Twp. is at. It was determined that its level was at 30.86 percent of market, but by law it should be at 33.33 percent. By applying the factor, that brings Avon's level up to the limit of statute of 33.33 percent.

If there are any questions regarding assessments, call Kristan's office at (708)546-2146.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste sticks to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. But that's expensive, and often only a temporary help.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquify even years of build-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guarantee!

Saves Money

A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too

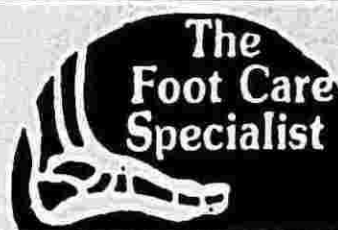

Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.

So, if your drains are giving you a signal, act now. Start cleaning your drains the safe, effective, guaranteed way. Get Plumb Clean today!

Cooperation says it all Politically Speaking

Twenty-five years ago, the foundation of grassroots government was jolted by the advent of metropolitan government for urban areas. The foremost example, Dade County, Fla., was viewed as the wave of the future with county and municipal government merged into a streamlined system that would be responsive to the needs of nation's newfound "metro" areas.

For whatever reason, metro government didn't turn out the way soothsayers predicted. In Illinois, both county and municipal units of local government, along with townships, grew bigger and stronger along with the population in urban areas with the result that our tri-part grassroots government is more viable than ever today.

The structure of local government in Lake County warrants a second glance with the start of a new year and a new decade as to how the parts mesh for the betterment of all. In his "State of the County" report, County Board Chairman Norman Geary underscored how county and municipal officials are working together in the best interests of everyone. We invite you to review the report published in detail elsewhere in this week's issue.

Never before has the need for cooperation been more important between units of local government than it is today. The chairman rightly emphasized cooperative efforts on stormwater management and efforts to solve solid waste disposal problems. The Stormwater Management Planning Committee (SMPC) ordinance likely will be adopted in April to set in motion far-reaching action on curbing flooding and reducing stormwater headaches, whether occurring in unincorporated territory or within the boundaries of a municipality. The county is involved in the creation of special services areas, examples of which include improved sewer service in Vernon Twp. and lakes management for the entire county. The county is a part of the Strategic Areas Management Plan (SAMP) for the Chain O'Lakes and Fox River which should be beneficial to many aspects of this vital natural resource.

The County of Lake observed its 150th birthday last year, making it a little older than some of the oldest incorporations, but not quite as old as some of the inhabitants which pre-date the act of the Illinois Legislature splitting off the eastern part of McHenry County to form Lake County. The inter-governmental cooperative spirit is burning brighter than ever. That's the way it should be.

Rekindle 12th Night

Mass burnings of Christmas trees as embodied in semi-religious 12th Night ceremonies are almost a thing of the past now that more and more communities are recycling trees for mulch chips and compost material.

While it's good to see the trees put to a worthwhile use after the holidays, there is a certain sadness about dropping 12th

Night. We always enjoyed the community spirit of 12th Night, a meaningful conclusion to the hectic holidays. The glow of neighborliness was as bright and warm as the burning trees.

While the bulk of the trees are recycled, perhaps a symbolic burning could become part of a revised 12th Night and that enjoyable tradition could be continued.

Letters To The Editor

Backs park purchase

Editor:

I am comparatively new to Grayslake, having moved here from a community that has experienced extreme growth. I have first-hand knowledge of the importance of preserving a recreational area such as this proposed Central Park acquisition. I became quite concerned with Mayor Smith's opposition to this acquisition and the figures Mayor Smith presented at the village board meeting. I contacted John Wilson, the director of the Grayslake Park Dist. with my concerns and he informed me that because of the many calls he received there would be a factual presentation for Grayslake residents that evening, which I attended. I found it very interesting to discover the difference in the figure $200 to $500 tax increase that Mayor Smith stated that this acquisition would cost the taxpayers as to the figure Wilson stated of $18 yearly for 10 years, or less than a cup of coffee a day for a home valued at $100,000.

As a taxpayer I fully support this acquisition.

Too many puppeteers

Editor:

After reading one Jack L. Martin's letter in Dec. 29, 1989 issue, something caused a gag reaction in my throat. Thank god he spoke for himself!

Let's see now. If my opposition could outspend me three or four to one; if my opposition hired a Chicago P R agent to plaster my name all over the Libertyville Township, a couple of weeks before an election, (which I feel was akin to the placement of the Le Rouchies names on the ballot); had my defeat referred to a "stunning defeat" (which numerically was not true); had a friend of mine like Mr. Martin insinuated that those who did not vote for his candidate were not "good and honest people of Lake County," and then read the litany of choices Mr. Martin gave. Well, all I can say is let the voters have them, their naivety deserves those choices. I wouldn't run, either!

I've read Mr. Martin's letters to the editor in newspapers over the years. Not just one. Looks as though, in my opinion, his vendetta sprang teeth in the cash flow arena.

I don't know Mr. Graham, nor Mr. Swank, personally. However, I do know Mr. Graham did care for the needy and not the greedy. How did he survive sans a $30,000 a year, whatever like the lady was given? Nor did he pay out $55,000 an acre for "farmland"! And I certainly hope everyone will enjoy the "private" golf course the newly elected rave about. I know the puppet, but so many puppeteers?

Library trip enjoyable

Editor:

It was a real pleasure joining the Wauconda Library group for one of their many outings. Having procrastinated long enough, even though every one of the events offered were of interest to me, I finally joined the trip to the Orrington Hotel for lunch and then the theatre to see "Lady in the Dark".

It was such an enjoyable outing — everything went smoothly — the luncheon was great; the theatre was super; and the driving there and back being someone else's problem, not mine, made for a perfect day!

I don't think enough recognition is given to persons like Anne Lindsey and her cohorts who do this planning — (Continued on next page)

Turnabout is fair play in love, war and, best of all, politics.

In Wauconda Twp. two political pros are squaring off once again. This time it is in the race for Republican precinct committeeman.

Robert Depke

Robert Neal

Pat Anderson

Incumbent Howard Bieze, who is active in the Wauconda Twp. Republican Assn., is being challenged by township Sup. Gerald Beyer. Beyer is a mainstream Republican, who has the favor of the county GOP organization. Bieze does not.

Beyer served on the County Board for Dist. 6 until two years ago. Bieze is now running for that same job. Beyer never thought Bieze would actually do it. Now, he and others are taking bets whether Bieze will drop off the ballot. He has until Tuesday, Jan. 16, to do so.

The battle for precinct committeeman in this little corner of Wauconda Twp. is a replay of several years ago. Bieze won that one.

Another battle for Republican precinct committeeman will take place in Avon Twp.

Two old political foes are squaring off. One is the incumbent, former Avon Twp. supervisor and current Dist. 4 County Board member Norman Geary of Grayslake. Challenging him is Avon Twp. Highway Comm. Pat Anderson, also of Grayslake.

This is a repeat of a 1986 battle between the two for Geary's County Board seat. Anderson lost that one.

"When Geary announced he was not running for re-election to the County Board I assumed he wouldn't run for committeeman, either," Anderson said. He was wrong. Geary wants to keep his fingers in the political pie.

Anderson, incidentally, was a Republican committeeman in another Avon Twp. precinct for eight years until moving to Geary territory. He, too, has the political bug.

"It's no big news that Geary and I are having a rematch," Anderson said. That's the understatement of the election. A loss will completely cut Geary's political ties going back 33 years.

In Ela Twp. the political pot of is also boiling. Four allied GOP committeemen, including township Sup. Robert Grever, were kicked off the March ballot.

"The other side spotted some technicalities and their challenges were upheld," Grever said. Raising the issue were forces loyal to Dist. 6 county board member Bruce Hansen. The one-time Ela Twp. board member is being challenged by Grever in the March primary.

So Grever is out of a precinct committeeman's job along with incumbent Michael Sullivan, Kenneth Grooms and Edward Henriksen. Like Grever's petitions, the top portion of Sullivan's and Grooms' were not properly completed. In Henriksen's case, someone else supposedly circulated the forms to which he attested.

"That's the way life (and politics) goes," Grever said. "But life goes on. Maybe someone did me a favor. This gives me a chance to concentrate my election energies on winning the County Board race. There's always some good in every negative."

County Republican Party Chairman Robert Neal is also facing some election heat in March. A political newcomer, Charles Nordigian, is challenging him for his committeeman's job in Newport Twp. A loss could mean Neal's party job. The chairman must be a precinct committeeman and elected by the Central Committee.

Neal says this is dirty pool. He is trying to blame his possible political demise on everyone from the Democratic Party to political foes Norman Geary of Grayslake and F.T. "Mike" Graham of Libertyville. The three serve on the Lake County Board. Neal has been a precinct committeeman for 12 years and party chairman for eight.

Nordigian, president of a Waukegan manufacturing firm who is making his first attempt at political office, says no one has a lifetime political job, even Neal. He says Neal has been ineffective as a committeeman due to his other political commitments.

Democratic officials say they don't even know Nordigian. The same goes for Geary and Graham.

"Since Neal is busy in Avon Twp. trying to defeat me at every turn he is paranoid enough to think I am trying to do the same to him," Geary said.

Keep your eyes on the Dist. 5 race for county board. It will be a dilly.

Incumbent Carol Calabrese of Libertyville, who is running alone, is joined in the fray by another independent, Libertyville Trustee Donald Coulson.

Teamed up are Warren Twp. supervisor and former County Board member Robert Depke with Vernon Hills Trustee Pamela Newton.

The March primary will be a rerun of last year's election when newcomer Ralph Swank Jr. defeated 18-year incumbent township Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham. The same forces who won that campaign at a cost of $6 per vote have been signed by Depke and Newton.

This one is going to be a hum-dinger.

COMING EVENTS—Friday, Feb. 2: Fund raiser for Sheriff Clinton Grinnell, Mer's Restaurant, Rte. 176, Wauconda, sponsored by Wauconda Twp. Tecumseh trail

LIBERTYVILLE—For $10 per year the Lake County Forest Preserve has been granted a perpetual lease for a bicycle, hiking, jogging and horseback trail on 90-acres of parkland along the Des Plaines River. This will become part of the Tecumseh Trail from the Wisconsin border through Illinois to Florida, which is named for the famous Shawnee Indian Chief. The Lake County portion of the trail will open in 1993.

Praise repair work

GURNEE---After being blasted by both village officials and residents for three months, Scarsdale Homes representatives heard praise at a Gurnee Village Board meeting. "It looks like they are making considerable progress," Gurnee Village Admin. James Hayner said. Hayner has been monitoring the repair progress at Scarsdale's Pines development for the last few months. The situation reached a head during the last board meeting of 1989 when Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton blasted Scarsdale for not moving fast enough on the repairs.

Streicher appeals

LAKE VILLA TWP.—Lake Villa Hwy. Comm. Jim Semmerling and Lake County Building and Zoning Dept. Director Robert Streicher will be heading back to court Monday—this time at the appellate level in Elgin. The fight began when Semmerling filed suit on behalf of Lake Villa Twp. against Lake County claiming that Streicher's efforts to have townships obtain county permits before working on their own roads was illegal. Lake County filed an appeal last spring after Lake County Circuit Court Judge Fred Geiger ruled that the township is a separate entity and is not subservient to the county.

Cite chief

ANTIOCH — Anyone that thinks that the Antioch Police Dept. doesn't treat everyone equally can take heed of a traffic citation issued to Antioch Police Chief Charles Miller on Dec. 29 as his car slid into the car in front of him on Lake St., causing a minor three-car accident. Miller was cited for following too closely.

Praise Haas

GRAYSLAKE—Grayslake Community High School staff members and officials are mourning the death of longtime baseball coach Jim Haas. Haas, 40, died Sunday at Rush Presbyterian Hospital in Chicago. Haas was baseball coach for more than 15 years, and was a Grayslake High teacher for 19 years. "He was a good man, a good teacher," said Grayslake High Athletic Dir. Harold Jahnke.

Marathon moves on LAKE ZURICH — A proposed 24-hour gas station at the corner of Rte. 12 and Main St. in Lake Zurich is moving ahead despite the objections of some village trustees and residents. Village trustees on Monday voted to grant Marathon Oil Corp. a variance on the village's setback regulations for a canopy at the proposed station.

Plaza plan panned

MUNDELEIN—With Mayor Marilyn Sindles breaking a 3-3 tie and voting no, plans by former Mayor Colin McRea to turn the vacant Jewel-Osco plaza into the new City Hall Center complex have almost died. McRea said the project will not be financially practical without allowing use of 12,000 square feet of the building by a nearby industry, Olympic Packaging Inc. The plaza has been vacant for two years. McRea said he regarded rehabilitation of the building as a personal challenge.

Sergeant leaves

LINDENHURST—The Village of Lindenhurst is losing yet another police officer. This time, Sgt. Tom Keane says he is leaving for a better paying job and a significantly higher salary in Deerfield. Keane said the decision to leave Lindenhurst was the hardest he's ever made. Acting Police Chief Art Preder said Keane is the department's top investigator and will be missed. Ofc. Kevin Klahs has received a promotion to sergeant effective Jan. 17.

Station approved

WAUCONDA — Village trustees approved the building of a new police facility to be located at the corner of Main St. and Rte. 176 (Liberty St.). Officials estimate the building will cost more than $1.7 million after it is equipped and furnished.

Deny request

VERNON HILLS—Vernon Hills officials tentatively denied a request by Illinois Bell officials to waive a village requirement to install automatic sprinkler system in a newly-built switching center near Rtes. 60 and 21. Illinois Bell Division Manager Steve Messer said he is concerned about accidental discharge of the sprinkler system and needless loss from flooding inside the building. He added water damage to the equipment could cause major service loss to customers in Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Long Grove, Mettawa and Indian Creek. Countryside Fire Chief Lewis Landry said the IBT officials' argument is weak, saying water controls the fire before firefighters arrive. He said his priority is fire prevention, and sprinkler systems are required in all new buildings, except for homes. Trustees want to hear state fire marshal's opinion before making a final decision. The matter will be discussed at the Feb. 6 meeting.

Schaffer wants four more Senate years

State Senator Jack Schaffer (R-Crystal Lake) has announced that he will seek re-election to the 32nd District Senate seat in the November 1990 election.

Sen. Schaffer's district encompasses most of McHenry County, all of Boone County, and parts of Winnebago and western Lake Counties.

"I am seeking re-election because I enjoy representing the citizens of northern Illinois. I feel we've made progress during my years serving in Springfield and I look forward to working together with my constituents and my colleagues as we face new challenges," Sen. Schaffer said. "My experience in the legislature will be valuable as we begin the new decade and continue to work to improve the quality of our state and its resources."

Schaffer has been honored as a legislator for his efforts on behalf of mental health issues, welfare reform, and child support legislation. He was named 1988 Legislator of the Year by the Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Illinois for his "diligent leadership in the push for adequate funding of Illinois' mental health system." He was also recognized by the Illinois Dept. on Aging for his continued support of the state's Community care program. In addition, Schaffer was named 'Friend of Agriculture' by the ACTIVATOR (Illinois Agriculture Assn. Political Involvement Committee).

The Republican incumbent says he will continue to work for fair distribution of funds for 32nd Dist. schools and roads, new economic development initiatives, quality service and funding for senior citizens and veterans services, health care, and constituent service.

After first being elected as state senator in 1972, Schaffer was then elected in the Republican Minority Leadership as Republican Caucus Chairman in 1985. Schaffer now serves as assistant minority leader and serves on the Senate Executive, Executive Appointments, Rules, Appropriations I and II, and Finance and Credit Regulations committees. He is also chairman of the Illinois Toll Highway Authority Advisory Committee, serves on the Blue Ribbon Task Force on Foster Care, and is Co-chairman of the Legislative Research Unit. Schaffer is a lifelong resident of Cary and is married to Dr. Mary Ann Louderback and has three sons.

Detention site plan faces hard questions

A proposal for the Lake County Forest Preserve to sponsor a 41-acre storm water detention site at the northeast corner of the Illinois Tollway and Atkinson Rd. drew hard questions from members of the District's Land Acquisition committee.

Heading the list of concerns was a new proposal by the Army Corps of Engineers that the "local sponsor" be required to pay all costs for any environmental cleanups which may develop. The term "local sponsor" is that used for the local government which would join the Illinois Dept. of Transportation, owner of the overall 71-acre property on the east side of the tollway. IDOT has asked the Forest Preserve to accept deed to the planned 41-acre detention facility.

As sponsor, the district would shoulder 25-percent of the project costs, a large portion of which would eventually be reimbursed by IDOT. However, committee members were concerned about a provision required by the Army Corps of Engineers which would authorize the project that the sponsor would bear sole cost for any "environmental concern" studies which the Corps would require.

In addition, the Forest Preserve would be required to pay for any and all costs to clean up any problems which might be found.

The proposed storm water pond, expected to be up to 46 feet deep, will handle runoff from the middle fork of the North Branch of the Chicago River.

Committee members asked for clarification of need for the pond, noting that the area involved already has high dike-like barriers on three sides, formed by the tollway, a railroad embankment and a roadway. The committee's attorney was asked to meet with the Storm Water Management Agency to ask if that body could become a sponsor, either at the start or subsequently if the Forest Preserve does decide to work with IDOT in order to move the program ahead. At the same time, the attorney was asked to ask SWMA if the pond is actually required, in consideration of the current natural contours which tend to create a natural detention area.

Cost for the project ranges up to $5.4 million, for which the Forest Preserve could be charged 25 percent, a portion of which would be rebated. Annual maintenance is estimated between $55-66,000, primarily for pumping equipment.

The Forest Preserve has participated in similar storm water projects in other locations, but without the new requirements for expense.

(Continued from preceding page) although I'm sure all the attendees who enjoy the fruits of your labor, do appreciate these opportunities. At least, that was the general scuttlebutt on board the day I attended!

Again, thanks for a great day — I want all of Wauconda and environs to know about it — and I, for one, am looking forward to many more.

Farm Bureau assails county bike trail plan

Plans for a 300-foot bike and hiking trail connecting the McDonald's Woods Forest Preserve in Lindenhurst and Picket Fence Farm, one of the newest Forest Preserve acquisitions near Grayslake, is being opposed by the Lake County Farm Bureau.

Directors voted to file a formal protest with the county on this acquisition and a proposal to acquire the bottom of Fourth Lake for public use.

According to a press release from the Farm Bureau, the trail will divide the land of Howard Bonner, which lies on both sides of Sand Lake Rd., into several parcels. "This will totally disrupt his farming operation and has made him fighting mad," the Farm Bureau said. "The trail will also cross Grand Ave., a heavily-traveled busy highway."

"The Bonner property has been in the family for more than 100 years," the press release says. "Bonner state it is un-American that he should read in the newspaper of the impending condemnation of his land by the Forest Preserve."

If the county does not act, Farm Bureau Manager Richard Raftis warned his group may seek state legislation to prevent condemnation of land for trail purposes.

In Kane County, Raftis said, the Farm Bureau became so outraged at acquisition of river front property for Forest Preserve trails it successfully sought legislation preventing this practice.

"Abuse of land owners will not be tolerated to further the political careers of a few County Board members," the press release said. "It is too bad that a few zealots can cause the system to become so flawed," Farm Bureau President Peter Tekampe is quoted as saying.

The release further said Lindenhurst Mayor Robert

Ratch has expressed opposition against further land acquisitions by the Forest Preserve Dist. "This request has been ignored and the Forest Preserve board continues on its merry way," the release says.

"Ratch, on other occasions, has attempted to work out differences with district officials," the release continues, "only to be ignored. The spirit of cooperation between county and municipal government is apparently a one-way street."

Avalon owners receive probation from court

Ira Raphaelson, United States Attorney for the Northern Dist. of Illinois and A.D. Moyer, district director, Immigration and Naturalization Service, Chicago, announced the sentencing of two Gurnee restaurant owners for allegedly engaging in a pattern and practice of hiring aliens unauthorized for employment in the United States.

Emanuel Kritkos, 31, of Gurnee, and his business associate, George Katris, 64, of Waukegan, were each sentenced by U.S. Magistrate Bernard Weisberg to serve two years probation and pay a $15,000 fine. In addition, the defendants will perform 400 hours of community service. The maximum sentence for such an offense is six months imprisonment and a $3,000 fine for each unauthorized alien employed.

Martin and Carol Webber of the Hospice at St. Therese Hospital will discuss living wills at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 17 at a community forum in the First Christian Church, 326 Julian St., Waukegan. The robber occurred at 12:48 a.m., Lt. Chester Iwan of the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. said.

Manpower strong in service

by BECKY JOHNS
Lakeland Newspapers

Chuck Bartels has been in the temporary employment business for more than 20 years.

Bartels is the owner of four Manpower offices in Lake County and one in Duluth, Minn., which he bought in 1969. Originally a school teacher, he became interested in franchising when he applied for a job with the Manpower parent company in Milwaukee, his hometown.

Bartels expanded his franchise in 1973 when he bought the Lake County franchise, which consisted of a Waukegan office originally owned by Charlie Sobel. From there he expanded the operation to include Manpower offices in his current hometown in Mundelein, as well as Wauconda, Lake Bluff and Lakehurst, where he moved the Waukegan operation after the 1986 flood.

Bartels will issue approximately 4,000 W-2 forms this year. His employees come from four different groups—students, retirees, second-income groups, and people between jobs. Sixty-five percent are women.

Bartels was joined five years ago by wife Theresa, who is director of planning and marketing.

"Most people come to us because they've heard somewhere else that Manpower is the place to come to," said Theresa.

Chuck employs everyone from doctors to truck drivers, providing temporary employees for some of the largest companies in Lake County.

"The biggest names in Lake County are our customers," said Chuck. "But some of our largest customers aren't necessarily the biggest companies."

Theresa said she became involved with Manpower after working for 10 years with the United Way. She added that her family life—including five sons, Matt, 20, Chris, 19, John, 15, Patrick, four and a half, and Peter, two, had a place in her decision.

"Personally, (I got involved) because the business really started to take off, and it allowed me some flexibility to be Mom and continue to work," Theresa said.

Chuck's philosophy on business is twofold.

"There are two sides to the equation. On the employee side, our philosophy is that we are going to treat human individuals with dignity and give them the opportunity to explore their potential with us, earn an income and be satisfied working. On the customer side is a mirror image—we provide strong quality service or we won't provide service," Chuck said.

Manpower offers several skills tests for different types of workers. Testing includes data entry and data processing, word processing, typing, sorting and checking, small parts assembly, and other various tests for 35 different software packages. They measure not only the speed and accuracy of the employee, but the enjoyment of a particular kind of work, the desire to do a job well, literacy and adding capabilities.

"The trick is to take the needs of the customer and the skills of the employee...and find someone who fits into that environment," he said.

The sorting and checking and small parts assembly tests are "the only tests like it in the world," according to Chuck. The tests were over three years in development.

In addition, Manpower can add to an employee's skills or train permanent employees of a customer on new equipment.

"We'll take a typist and teach her to be a word processor," he said. "They actually learn by doing."

But even after leaving the Manpower office to start work, Chuck doesn't leave the employee hanging. Each employee is issued an instruction manual for his or her particular work, to refer to when a question arises.

"Manpower is not only the biggest (temporary employment service) in the world, it is the world leader," he said. "We feel that leadership role in Lake County. I think we represent our industry clearly and well."

"Ultimately, the success of our service is our sales for the future," he said.

How a retirement program can work for you

by NICK BROWN

Everyone is aware of how pension, 401(k) and profit sharing plans have been restricted, reduced or terminated over the past 15 years.

and your key employees by implementing what is commonly called a Supplemental Executive Retirement Program (SERP). A SERP is a non-qualified

The most typical plan provides an executive with 50 percent of his final salary for a period from 10 years to lifetime, beginning at retirement. Unlike conventional retirement plans, this program can provide these benefits at any retirement age beginning as soon as age 55 or as late as the normal retirement age of 65 or 70.

In the difficult struggle to provide a sufficient retirement income, the supplemental executive retirement program is an effective tool to ensure that you will not have to reduce your standard of living when you retire. And as further restrictions concerning qualified plans are enacted with each subsequent law change, the supplemental executive retirement plan will continue to gain in popularity as evidenced by the considerable amount of recent discussion in the financial community.

You should discuss this type of program with your benefits counselor, accountant and attorney before making a final decision.

Brown is president of The Planning Group, Glenview, a financial planning and consulting firm that counsels individuals and business in all 50 states. Your questions are invited by writing to This Way to Wealth, 2203B Lakeside, Bannockburn, IL 60015.

This Way to Wealth

The changes in laws and revisions of the 1974 Employee Retirement Income

Security Act, commonly known as ERISA, have restricted both the amounts of contribution and benefits in most employer-sponsored retirement plans.

However, as a business owner, you can provide for both your own retirement plan, which means it is not affected by the laws restricting pension and profit sharing plans.

A SERP provides selective retirement benefits to make your retirement income adequate. This plan can either provide supplemental retirement benefits in addition to your current plans, or it can defer part of your income until your retirement.

The plans can be unfunded or evidenced only be a book entry by the business, funded by a sinking fund, or funded through corporate life insurance; this provides both a retirement benefit as well as a pre-retirement death benefit. It is also possible for the business to recover all the costs of this program upon the premature death of the executive.

The Wholesale Club opening in Racine

The Wholesale Club, Inc. announced it has signed a development agreement for a new cash-and-carry membership warehouse in Racine.

The 103,000-square-foot warehouse will be located at State Trunk Hwy. 31 and 21st St. in Racine. The unit will be developed by First National Realty and Development Company, Inc., Chicago, and will open in summer of 1990. The new unit will enable The Wholesale Club to serve members in Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois from Milwaukee to Chicago.

In a letter to The Wholesale Club Chairman John Giesse, Wisconsin Governor Tommy G. Thompson wrote: "The Wholesale Club's commitment to and investment in the state of Wisconsin has been significant and continues to increase. The Wholesale Club has been a positive force in Wisconsin in every way and I look forward to seeing more facilities opening across our state, serving Wisconsin residents."

At least 100 new jobs will be created at The Wholesale Club-Racine facility, from entry to management levels. Commenting on the decision to build in Racine, John Giesse said, "This expansion reaffirms our commitment to serve the needs of Wisconsin's businesses and non-profits. There are thousands of businesses, churches, and schools to whom we can be of significant service. By helping businesses and non-profits stretch their budgeted dollars further, we can contribute to the well being of Racine and its people."

The Wholesale Club offers low prices to businesses, churches, clubs, non-profit organizations and certain groups of members on a controlled selection of mostly brand name products in a wide range of merchandise categories. This combination of factors produces rapid inventory turnover and enables The Wholesale Club to operate at significantly lower margins than full service wholesalers, discount retailers and supermarkets.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Although Japan has been in the spotlight for its international investments and its affect on global economy in the past two decades, it's not alone in an expanding world economy. Today, the gross national product of the United States is twice that of the entire world in 1970, and the G-N-P of the world has increased six times in the past nineteen years. This proves the entire world economy is growing rapidly and offering investors more opportunity than ever!

Although international investing has primarily been limited to institutions and professional investors, more and more individual investors are placing dollars in overseas markets.

Of course, international investing does have its risks, but, for the most part, its rewards have been quite good. If you're interested in sampling global investing, you may want to look at international mutual funds. As with any mutual fund, your dollars are diversified among a variety of investments, which means less risk to your hard-earned dollars.

Film Review

The latest super hero film, "Tango and Cash," opened last week starring Sylvester Stallone and Kurt Russell, both treading on familiar "shoot-em-up" grounds.

The action is fast moving throughout, with our heroes, as usual, performing impossible physical feats, while their white hats never fall off even as these defrocked cops are hung on hooks and getting electric shock treatments from some of the cons they put into prison.

The question asked by this adventure flick being, "Can two cops survive an undeserved prison sentence that puts them in the same orange jumpsuits as their former criminal adversaries?"

The answer being, if one has Stallone's brains and know-how and Russell's profane vocabulary and guts, almost "of course" they can.

"Rambo-Rocky" dons a three-piece suit and horn-rimmed glasses for this one, but some of Stallone's Jersey accent bleeds through.

Russell does Mel Gibson proud in his "Serpico" type role.

None of this is valuable. A lot of it is impossible, but somewhat exciting.

Here's another "chums to the end cops and robbers" that should please those who loved "Rambo," "Lethal Weapon," etc., although it lacks much of the quality of these two. Give it two-and-one half stars out of five on the basis of Stallone's and Russell's sheer audacity.

Be there

Do you love Rimsky Korsakov's "Scherzade?" This renowned piece of musical madness will be one of the features at the Northwest Symphony Concert, to be played at 8 p.m., on Saturday, Jan. 13, at the Maine West High School auditorium.

For info, call (708)327-5241.

The winter play season has started at Andres Steak House in Richmond, opening with "Old Wine in a New Bottle." This wacky comedy runs on weekends through the end of the month.

Still a chance to see "Moonbirds" at the College of Lake County Theatre.

Musically speaking, it's Gerry Traxler's Choral Dynamics singing "Opening Night Notes," at Libertyville High School on Jan. 20 and 21. Guest tenor is Victor Lanza, son of Mario Lanza, famed film tenor of the 1950s.

Violinist Anne Mischakoff will be rendering the works of Penderecki, Martinu and Bloch on Jan. 14 and 21, at the Music Center of the North Shore in Winnetka.

Top area folk performers will be giving a two-hour concert at the David Adler Cultural Center, at 7:30 p.m., on Saturday, Jan. 20.

Now that just everyone is predicting what will be "in" or "out" for the next decade, you lovers of talk shows better hurry and enjoy you're favorites while you can.

Predictions are that super tv talkers like Opra Winfrey, Geraldo Rivera and Morton Downey, Jr. are on their way out.

They say that Tom Cruise, named the top star of 1989, will be "inner" than ever in the 1990's, with his newest flick, "Born on the Fourth of July" touted to bring possible Oscar nominations.

NICC Derby hits ice on Feb. 10-11

The 30th Chain O'Lakes Ice Fishing Derby and Winter Festival will be held on Feb. 10 and 11. This event will be sponsored by the Northern Ill. Conservation Club dedicated to conservation oriented projects in northern Illinois.

The main headquarters for the derby will be on Channel Lake Wasz' Resort. The three satellites will be located on Petite Lake by Kempf's Resort, Lake Marie by Frank and Char's Resort, and Pistakee Lake by Harrison's Resort.

Plenty of free parking will be available. For further information on parking feel free to call the following numbers: Kempf's Resort, (708)395-2484; Frank and Char's Resort, (708)395-2036; Harrison's Resort, (815)385-0323; and Wasz's Resort, (708)395-9839.

This event has grown in magnitude over the years drawing more than 9,000 people last year to participate in the many family events and fishing contests.

This year there will be 21 main prizes on the derby ticket valued in excess of $7,000 which will be drawn on Sunday afternoon.

They have increased the hourly fishing prizes from 480 to 1,280 with prizes being won every hour for both large and small fish.

A $100 cash prize will be awarded for the largest fish in each of the 10 categories caught during the derby.

A $25 prize will be awarded in each category for the smallest fish caught during the derby.

In addition the largest fish caught overall during the derby at each claiming station will receive a $100 cash prize. Fish may be registered only once.

Something new this year will be a $1,000 tagged fish released at each location. They also will be honoring all previously tagged fish at $25 each.

This year the hourly prizes and the tagged fish are sponsored by Rinella Beverage Co., distributors of Budweiser, Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Chicago, and Hardee's Restaurants of Lake County.

Credit long run for 'Rappaport' play

by TOM WITOM
Lakeland Newspapers

"I'm Not Rappaport" falls into the ageless comedy-about-about category.

Comic Shelley Berman co-stars at Chicago's Briar Street Theater, with Garrett Morris as one of two octogenarians who use their wits rather than their failing bodies to survive in the sometimes hostile urban environment of New York City.

Critics Choice

For the doggedly independent-minded Berman, the "safe" options proffered by his concerned daughter—from living with her family in the suburbs to staying at a rest home for senior citizens—are totally unacceptable.

As the eccentric Nat, Berman gives his imagination free reign, assuming such roles for himself as a lawyer to help his almost-blind friend Midge (Morris) keep his job and taking on the guise of a former Mafia hit man on a rescue mission for a former drug addict.

However, Central Park can be a tough place to hang out when you are in your 80s and not very fleet of foot.

Berman and Morris pull it off with dignity and humor. Completing the cast are Ellyn Duncan, Kevin Doyle, Tom Quinn, Loren Rubin and Nancy Linari, who lend nice support to Herb Gardner's 1986 Tony-Award-winning comedy.

"I'm Not Rappaport" should be settled in for a long, successful engagement at the Briar Street Theater, 3133 N. Sheffield.

'Tale of Two Cities' means visits to Albany, Corvallis

Being invited to sample "A Tale of Two Cities" was an attention-getter. The cities of Albany and Corvallis, Ore., are about 70 miles south of Portland. We arrived by air, gaining two hours of jetlag on our clock during a three-and-one-half-hour flight from O'Hare on American Airline's schedule.

We usually drive, but air travel moved quickly and on schedule. From 30,000 feet, the ground below appeared in a table game dimension. Clouds observed from above looked like fluffy white sheep that seem to chase their own ground shadows as they move across the distant terrain.

Jutting, snow-covered mountain peaks made one aware of how tiny we are amid nature's vast and awesome size, where debilitating man-made changes are being forced upon our air, ground and water resources.

Albany and Corvallis are an hour from the coast, inland among long-time residents. Overnights in private homes include bed and breakfast sociability brining visitors closer to local reality. In beautiful Victorian finery, we sampled unusual hospitality at affordable prices.

Area vineyards produce famous wines and invite visitors to sample their excellence. We also tried ethnic specialties from Mexico, Italy, Hungary and Asia, mixed with sumptuous local cuisines and fresh seafoods.

Both towns are county seats and serve extensive areas. Eleven miles apart, they are solid, 30,000 - 40,000 residential communities that recognize the values of coordinating hospitality and visitor attractions.

One bed and breakfast host in Corvallis, a college town, displays wall-hung visitor maps studded with guest pins from both coasts, the midwest, England, Europe and Asia.

For breakfast, she served a dish her mother created and named "Dutch Baby," a warm, oval pie crust filled with hot, spicy Oregon apple wedges in a cinnamon sauce.

As seven of us from distant points mixed conversation, coffee and juice, the lusty cry of our host's own "Dutch Baby" Derek, emanated from the busy kitchen, but quickly changed to gurgles and smiles as, in his mother's arms, he greeted each guest. Hotels are never like this.

Another breakfast highlight occurred outdoors in Albany, where a picnic-table Lumberjack's Smorgasbord was followed by a demonstration of championship expertise with long lumber saws and axes.

It was the site of their annual three-day, World Championship Timber Carnival, run since 1941.

AMI

The Alliance for the Mentally Ill of Lake County (AMI) is a support group to help family members who have mentally ill relatives. AMI's next meeting will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 17, at 7 p.m., at St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 125 W. Church St., Libertyville. David Schanding, director of the Lake County Mental Health Dept., will speak about housing currently available for the mentally ill. For more information about AMI, call (708)249-1515.

Buildings and facilities are for public use at other times. Contestants in the many events come from around the world—it's become an international classic.

We've All heard about someone having an "axe to grind," but until this visit, I'd never swung or thrown a well-honed, double-bladed loggers axe at anything—much less a wooden target face.

However, I accepted their challenge and to my amazement threw the cumbersome four-foot axe the standard 20-foot distance and buried the blade into the target face.

Three or four throws clung for countable scores. I was more surprised than they were. For information regarding this interesting recreation area, write Corvallis Visitor Bureau, 620 N. 2nd St., Corvallis, OR 97330.

New Year's Resolution—DIET

"I'll start my diet after the holidays . . ." Well, 1990 arrived and now is the time to pare down some calories in our menus. These recipes of good tasting, low calorie foods are for the enjoyment of dieters and non-dieters alike.

Variety is more than the spice of life. Eating a variety of foods helps one prevent the boredom that can lead to unhealthy eating patterns. This is not a diet, but some great reduced calorie, less sodium and fat recipes to start you on your way to enjoying those bright and pretty spring clothes. Good luck!

(Believe it or Not)

Low-Cal French Fries recipes

2 large BAKING potatoes, washed (do not peel, slice into slight half-inch pieces. DO NOT RINSE). Place into bowl and add:

2 tsp. oil (coat potato pieces well with fingers)

Preheat oven to 400 degrees Fahrenheit. Place oiled potato sticks on ungreased, non-stick cookie sheet. Bake for about 40-45 minutes, turning once after 20 minutes. They should sizzle and turn nicely brown and crispy. Add a little salt for flavor and enjoy!

Chicken breasts, I think, were made in heaven. There are so many ways to bake, broil, barbecue, stuff, bread, poach, fry, and marinate these birds that the only limitation is your imagination.

Lemon-Seasoned Chicken Breasts

1 tbl. water
1/2 tsp. bouquet sauce
1 tbl. lemon juice
1 tsp. lemon pepper
1/2 tsp. salt, optional
2 whole bone-in chicken breasts, halved, skin removed
1 to 2 tsp. parsley flakes

In a small dish combine all ingredients except chicken and parsley. Arrange the chicken breasts bone-side up on microwave roasting rack, with the meatiest portions to the outside of the dish. Brush with half of the seasoned mixture. Microwave at high for five minutes.

Turn pieces over and brush with remaining mixture. Microwave 10 to 15 minutes, or until the meat near the bone is no longer pink, rotating once during cooking. Sprinkle with parsley before serving. Serves 4; 165 calories.

Sinfully rich, you'll feel like you're cheating, but you're not!

Chocolate Cream Mousse

1 envelope (1 oz.) low-calorie chocolate pudding mix
1 1/2 cups skim milk
1/2 tsp. Grand Marnier
1/2 tsp. butter flavoring
1 egg white
2 tsp. fructose
1 Tbl. prepared low-calorie whipped topping

In a small saucepan, combine pudding mix and milk. Heat over medium, reduce heat and simmer, stirring constantly until thickened. Remove from heat, stir in Grand Marnier and butter flavoring. Cover and let cool.

In a small bowl, combine egg white and fructose. Whip until egg white forms stiff peaks. Fold in cooled pudding. Spoon into serving dishes; chill. Serve with whipped topping. Serves 4; 97 calories.

Lanza's son to appear

by VIRGINIA KRUEGER

Many of the articles printed about tenor Mario Lanza mention his wife Betty and their 1945 marriage which, over the years, consummated in the birth of four children—Mark, Colleen, Lisa and Damon. Who then, one might ask, is Victor?

Victor was born in 1944 in Philadelphia, son of Maria Margelli and Alfredo Arnold Coccozza, later to be known worldwide as Mario Lanza. According to Victor, this name was a derivative of his mother's maiden name and the male version of Maria.

Victor and his mother moved to Argentina when he was just an infant and, until he was about 16, he only spoke Italian and Spanish, which accounts for his delightful Spanish accent today. (Victor's mother, Maria, is still alive and living in Florida.)

Victor speaks fondly of Mario and remembers him as being "a really nice person" who loved outdoor activities such as horses and fishing. The year of Mario's death, he had made arrangements for Victor to meet him in Spain and spend the summer with him.

"Mario had been in a clinic to lose weight," said Victor, "before filming the movie 'Grenada' in Spain. This was to have been the story of a matador and Mario." As we now know, "fate" had other plans for this father/son duo.

Although Victor had always enjoyed singing, he had never planned to make it his profession. He became an electronic engineer, and he and Susy Gomez were married Jan. 21, 1986, in San Diego. The couple presently reside in Waukegan, with the possibility of relocating elsewhere in Lake County in the spring of 1990.

In talking with this engaging couple, one is bound to be impressed not only by their soft-spoken mannerisms but also by the obvious affection they share for one another. The Victor Lanza's possess that priceless quality to making a person they have just met feel, "These are the friends one has known for years."

Although Victor has appeared in various supper clubs since his arrival to this area, he is employed on a daily basis as a bi-lingual teacher with Waukegan School Dist. 60. Wife Susy works in an office in Wilmette.

Victor is scheduled to appear at Libertyville High School as a guest soloist with the Gerry Traxler Choral Dynamics on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 20 and 21, and at Carmel High School's "Street Scenes," Friday and Saturday, Feb. 9 and 10.

For tickets for Gerry Traxler's show, call (708)949-1079, evenings.

Just as the subject of what caused Mario Lanza's death has been quite controversial, so now is the subject of Victor's validity.

Andre's opens winter dinner/theatre season

Andre's Steakhouse opens its 1990 Winter Dinner/Theatre season this Saturday, Jan. 6, with the sexy, sassy spoof "Old Wine In A New Bottle," by Murray Schisgal, the author of LUV.

"Old Wine In A New Bottle" is a strictly-for-adults comedy that explores modern morals and the battles between the sexes and the generations. The plot revolves around the decision of fifty-five year old Irving Berger to leave wife Marsha and live with a young model. The events occurring arrives unexpectedly at the mode's apartment and her ex-beau shows up add to the frustrating merriment of this play. Add to this the arrival of Irving's rabbi, and you have a mad-cap evenings of fun. The show is directed by Tom Hausman and stage managed by Deane Jones.

This will be Rosebud Production's third year of presenting comedies at the well-known steakhouse located half a mile north of Ill. 173 on U.S. 12 in Richmond. Subsequent play dates are: Jan. 7, 12, 13, 14, 19, 21, 26 and 27. Dinner and show times are: Friday-dinner at 7 p.m., show at 8:30; Saturday-dinner at 6:30, show at 8 p.m.; Sunday-dinner at 1:30, show at 3 p.m. Reservations and ticket information can be obtained by dialing 815/678-2671.

Lakeland's Mid-Winter Car Care

How well do you know your transmission?

Here are five true/false questions on transmission and drive line components.

1. Even in an emergency, motor oil should not be used in place of automatic transmission fluid? [T] or [F]
2. An automatic transmission can be damaged by shifting back and forth from DRIVE to REVERSE to rock a car out of a snow bank? [T] or [F]
3. The addition of a transmission cooler can prevent damage to the automatic transmission due to high speed highway driving? [T] or [F]
4. Average life of the CV (constant velocity) joints on front wheel drive cars is 75,000 miles. Proper lubrication, part of a routine oil change, can significantly extend CV joint life? [T] or [F]

5. When your car seems to shift down more than it should, even with light pressure on the accelerator, the trouble could be in the engine rather than the transmission? [T] or [F]

For an informative pamphlet on drive line maintenance send $.50 and a stamped, self-addressed letter-size envelope to Car Care Council, Dept. DL, One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton, Ohio 43452.

ANSWERS:

1. TRUE. Use only ATF (automatic transmission fluid) in the transmission. ATF transmits energy, helps to cool and lubricate the gears. It must have proper flow and anti-foam characteristics. Use only the ATF specified for your make and model vehicle.

2. TRUE. Transmission repair specialists say continuous rocking back and forth when stuck in snow, sand or mud can overheat the transmission. If your car has been subjected to this type of severe use, have the transmission fluid checked. Fluid that is discolored and has a burned odor should be drained and replaced along with the filter.

3. FALSE. The auxiliary cooler prevents overheating due to heavy duty use of the vehicle such as in trailer towing, hauling heavy loads or continuous stop and go driving. Under such driving conditions one should check and change fluid more frequently. (Check owners manual for details).

4. FALSE. Proper lubrication of a CV joint depends upon the grease which is retained within a rubber boot surrounding the joint. If the boot is punctured or otherwise damaged, the grease will leak out and the flexible joint soon will wear out. The boot should be inspected frequently; however, lubrication of this component has nothing to do with an oil change.

5. TRUE. Driveability trouble such as "when the transmission "searches" for its gear, shifting up and down too frequently, can be due to an engine malfunction. A power loss due to ignition or fuel trouble can trigger this erratic operation.

PCV valve affects performance

It's not uncommon for a car's engine to burn a quart or so of oil with every two or three tanks of gas after it has logged 75,000 to 100,000 miles.

Advancements in oil and filters, engine design and metallurgy have resulted in vehicles which may go twice that far with minimal oil consumption. How well the vehicle has been maintained usually is the determining factor, say experts in the field.

Oil burning is the result of oil entering the combustion chamber, usually past worn valve seals or piston rings. When the condition becomes severe enough, the car will smoke and spark plugs will foul. Major engine repairs may be necessary.

Another cause of oil consumption is a malfunctioning PCV (positive crankcase ventilation) valve. This component of the emissions control system regulates the flow of crankcase fumes, which are returned to the intake manifold to be re-burned.

The valve controls the amount of vacuum which is sucking the fumes out of the crankcase. Too much or too little can be harmful to the engine. Too little venting action can cause pressure to build up in the crankcase, leading to blown seals and erratic engine operation.

Too much vacuum can cause a mist of oil, rather than just vapors to be drawn into the combustion chambers.

The PCV valve should be checked as part of seasonal service. Costing only a few dollars, it's a good investment in preventive maintenance.

Lakeland's Mid-Winter Car Care

Driving with the gas gauge on empty isn't a good idea, and not just because you may find yourself stranded.

When too little gasoline is in the tank, condensation can form, literally watering down the gas that's there. That can cause starting problems, hesitation on acceleration and poor overall performance.

Keeping a maintenance record for your car can pay off.

In addition to being a handy reference if you want to complain to a service department about a job you think was poorly performed, the log can be a selling tool, too.

If you can show a potential buyer that you have taken care of your car, there may be less concern by the purchaser of getting stuck with unseen problems.

Here are some things which may indicate a problem with your brakes, according to Allied Aftermarket Division, which markets Fram, Bendix and Autolite products:

A spongy feeling in the pedal. This may indicate that air has gotten into the brake fluid, making it less efficient.

The pedal throbs when pressed. Throbbing can be caused by a problem with brake drums or rotors. Drums press against rotors to slow the car, and when the contact surfaces are uneven, throbbing occurs.

Brake fade. The driver notices that it takes longer to slow from one speed to another when using the brakes. It often occurs when there is frequent braking during rush hour traffic situations. Heat is the most common reason for fading.

Tough drunken driving laws are turning into good news for limousine operators, according to the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association.

The MVMA says about half of the revenues collected by limousine operators come from business uses, but lots of folks are leaving the driving at party time to someone else.

It can be cheaper and safer for a group of friends to rent a limousine for the night, forget about parking charges and stay away from steering wheels after having a few too many, the organization says.

What a difference a hemisphere makes.

There are five vehicle dealerships in Moscow, Idaho, selling Subaru, Jeep, Toyota, Chevrolet, Volkswagen, Ford, Mercury, Buick, Pontiac,

Cadillac, Nissan and GMC Trucks.

Cars don't take kindly to cold starts, short trips and stop-and-go operation when the thermometer drops into the teens or below. While we can't do much about the weather, there are a few things we can do to improve performance and fuel economy during winter driving.

Tips for cold weather driving

- Check tire inflation. Tire pressure decreases one pound for every 10 degrees temperature drop; 6 pounds of underinflation may cost 3 percent in gas mileage.

- An improperly operating choke can have an even greater effect on fuel economy. It also can cause spark plugs to foul, compounding the inefficiency.

Is the car slow to warm up? The cooling system thermostat may not be working properly. A cold running engine loses 5 to 10 percent of its fuel efficiency. Engine wear is accelerated, too.

- Are you carrying 100 pounds of sand in the trunk for better rear wheel traction in the snow? (Add another 1 to 4 percent to your gas consumption.)

- Dirty, heavyweight summer oil, like molasses in January, can really drag down your engine. If your car requires winter-weight oil, change it and the filter for cold weather driving.

Lakeland's Mid-Winter Car Care

Which brand of gasoline should you buy?

America's consumers read labels. They may know the cholesterol, caloric and fiber content of their breakfast food, the cotton content of their jeans and the various functions of their toothpaste, but one of our most frequently purchased commodities, gasoline, is somewhat of a mystery to us. Most gas now is unleaded, but which brand do you buy, and how do the features vary from one brand to another?

Because information on most gas pumps is limited at best, we are somewhat dependent on the integrity of the service station outlet for providing the best fuel for our cars. To read and understand the labeling on a gas pump one might need an engineering degree, says Car Care Council.

Beyond octane rating (the measure of a gasoline's ability to prevent engine knock), the considerations would be alcohol content (if any) and what type of alcohol, additives such as detergent, corrosion inhibitor and rust/corrosion inhibitors. Gasoline also should be compounded for greater volatility (ability to vaporize) in winter, less in summer.

A consumer survey by a major oil company showed 42% of drivers don't know the octane rating of the gasoline they purchase.

Nearly half of the drivers surveyed had experienced some engine performance problems, including knocking or pinging, stumbling, hesitating and stalling.

Thirty one percent of these vehicle owners felt they could improve driveability by using a better grade of gas. Twenty percent thought specific additives, either in the fuel or added to the tank by the owner, could solve their engine problems.

The majority, 56%, said a tune-up would be the most effective remedy for engine performance problems. (More than one remedy could be mentioned.)

The Council recommends using the grade of gasoline recommended in the vehicle owner's manual, noting that octane requirements may increase as the engine ages.

This is because of accumulated carbon in the combustion chamber, eventually it may be necessary to use gas of higher octane to prevent excessive "spark knock."

Car Care Council emphasizes, however, that continued use of the more expensive premium fuel is a poor substitute for having the engine tuned to factory specifications.

Regular gas mileage checks can disclose potential car trouble

How's your gas mileage? If you haven't checked it lately you are not alone. Most people aren't as concerned as they used to be about fuel economy unless, suddenly, it becomes noticeably worse. Even then they may not bother to (or know how to) calculate gas mileage.

An increase in fuel consumption is an early warning signal of some kind of a problem. A running check on miles-per-gallon (mpg) can disclose a discrepancy before it becomes serious. Carry a pad and pencil in the glove compartment and record each fill-up and the mileage reading. Then, every month or so, divide the number of gallons consumed into the distance driven.

A persistent decrease in average mpg indicates the need for maintenance, sometimes nothing more complex than tire inflation, a seasonal oil change or a new air filter.

An engine that's overdue for a tune-up can cause a noticeable decrease in fuel economy. Conversely, you can expect better mileage following needed maintenance and repair.

Even if you don't keep regular auto records, do a miles-per-gallon calculation periodically and always over the distance of at least two fillups. A wasteful discrepancy may be detected before it costs money.

Remember, too, that poor gas mileage usually is linked to hard starting, rough running and power loss. It also may cause excessive exhaust emissions, a major source of air pollution.

MERRIAM

FLOOR PLAN

PLAN NO. 209-42

A carriage, complete with liveried driver wouldn't seem out of place unloading passengers in front of the Merriam's high arched entryway. Symmetrical cultured brick planters and columns flanking the entrance add to the impression of solid class.

Yet, contrary to first impressions, the basically ranch-style Merriam is neither excessively large nor expensive. Inside it's totally contemporary in styling. And open. While the kitchen, living room and dining room each has its own separate space, there are no doors to impede traffic flow by closing these areas off from the main hall.

The elegant sweep of twin arches marks the end of the vaulted, window-lit entryway and the entrance to the living room. In addition to the eye-pleasing qualities of the arches, the arched entry to the living room also stands as an open invitation to step in and warm chilly backsides by the fire.

A large eating nook with a pantry tucked in one corner functions as a mini-family room. Plenty of room here for a big table for family meals, board games and homework.

Parents of teens will appreciate the master suite's location at the opposite end of the house from the children's bedrooms. Empty nesters could convert one of the extra bedrooms to a study, and leave the other for guests.

The utility room opens to both the hallway and a two-car garage, convenient for carrying groceries. The garage comes complete with a naturally lit workbench.

For a study plan of the MERRIAM (209-42), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plan they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Partners are restless indeed this weekend, but you won't be bored! Put down a few more domestic roots.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Boring but true, there's more work in store for you this weekend. Force no personal decisions.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Creative avenue of expression is what you need, or a lover who tickles your mind as well as your body.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) Family members can be a joy as well as a responsibility this week. Try to relate to humanity as a whole.

Helpful Advice From The American Kennel Club
"Winterize" Your Dog

If you haven't "winterized" your dog yet, you may be barking up the wrong tree, say dog experts. They offer the following pointers to help take the bite out of winter for your pet:

- Rinse your dog's feet and dry them completely after a walk—rock salt used on icy streets can be irritating.

- Look out for dangers inside the home. Keep antifreeze away from dogs, likewise poisonous holiday plants such as holly and poinsettias.

- Don't let your pet romp alone—snow can muffle scents and your dog can easily get lost.

- Never leave your dog alone in the car during winter—it gets too cold, and leaving the engine running is dangerous.

- For dogs that sleep outside, a dry insulated shelter with bedding, raised up off the cold, wet ground is a must. If the temperature goes below freezing, have the dog sleep indoors.

- To prevent frostbite on ears, tails and feet, don't stay outside too long, especially if your dog is small or has a short coat.

Consult your veterinarian for more tips on winter pet care.

Sequoits win thriller, shoot for .500 in NSC

Heading into two North Suburban Conference games, Antioch boys basketball Coach Jeff Dresser was hoping for a post-Christmas present.

That is, consistent play which would give the Sequoits hope for the 1990 portion of the season.

And the Sequoits received just that in a thrilling win over North Chicago and a rally at Stevenson.

"We've played much better than before Christmas," Dresser said.

Against Stevenson, the Sequoits trailed led 20-9 early in the second quarter but then slowed down the home team.

It was sophomore Eric Roth who came through in the final stanza, as Antioch had narrowed another 11-point Stevenson margin. Roth grabbed five fourth-quarter rebounds.

Stevenson Coach George Katich praised the defensive job Detroy, Coleman and Roth did on Matt Pelland. "He averages 14 rebounds and he only got seven," Katich said.

For Antioch Coach Dresser, whose team fell to 4-10 overall, 2-4 in the NSC, the game was a case of an early deficit being too much to overcome.

Antioch had topped North Chicago 45-43 in a thriller the day before on a three-point shot by Jeff Becker.

But 36 percent shooting helped do the Sequoits in at Prairie View.

Ed Haley and Mike Newcomb added 10 points for Antioch.

Against North Chicago, Antioch had the ball out-of-bounds with five seconds left, trailing 43-42.

"We ran the out-of-bounds play four times and he hit it four times," Dresser said.

Becker was a perfect seven-for-seven from three-point territory and finished with 26 points. Pelland contributed 12 points.

Jermaine Garrett led the Warhawks with 12 points.

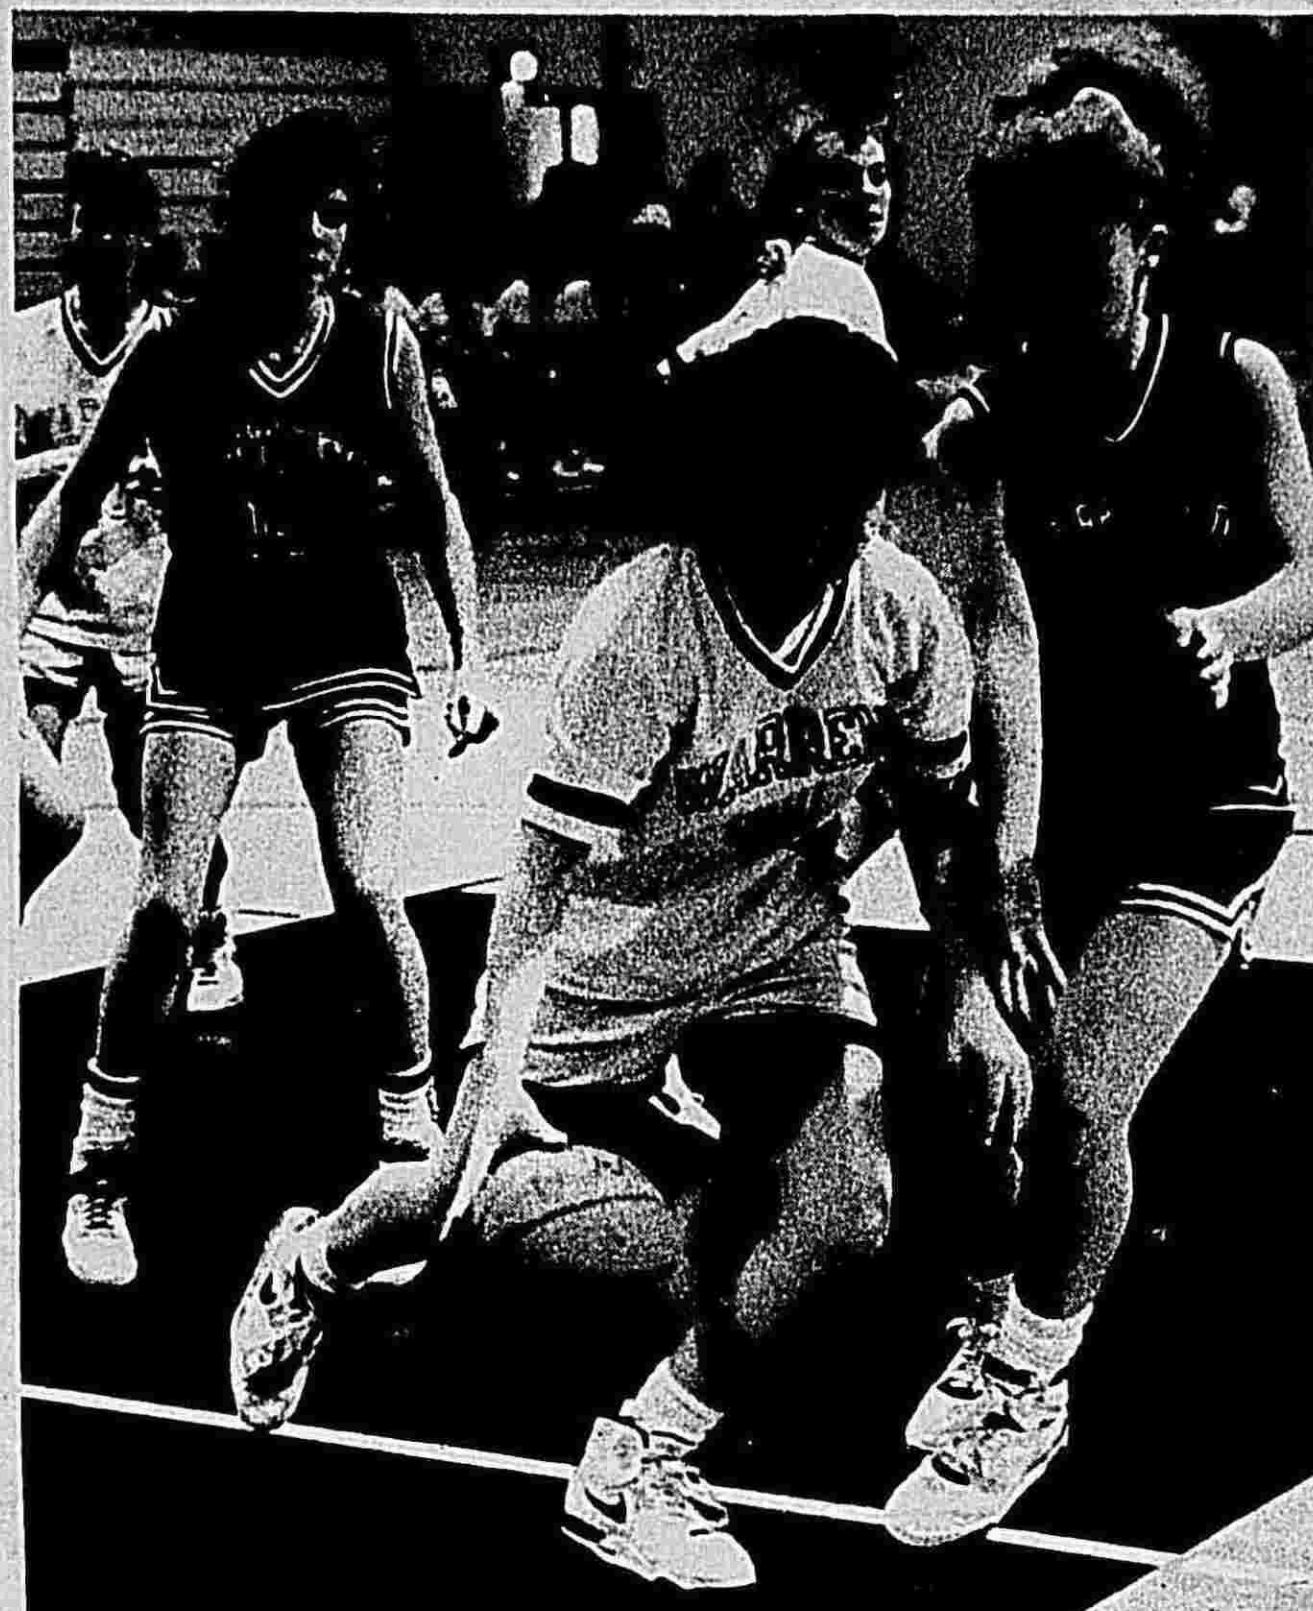

Craig Burton and Garrett had two three-point shots for North Chicago (5-8, 1-5) which is at Libertyville Jan. 12.

"Mundelein should be a good test for us. We should be OK if we control Harlan (Shawn)," Dresser said.

After the Mundelein game Jan. 12, the Sequoits are at Zion-Benton Jan. 13. A double win weekend would give Antioch a 4-4 NSC mark.

Meanwhile, Stevenson's boys basketball team reached the top of the North Suburban Conference with a two-game sweep this week.

Now the question facing the Patriots will be: can they maintain that level of play?

Antioch girls looking for better NSC starts

Sometimes, one can tell it is just not your day.

For girls basketball coaches, start with the star player not in uniform because of a family matter and add to that a technical foul in the first quarter because of a scoreboard mix-up.

That's what Antioch girls Coach Al Tamburrino had to contend with in a 68-29 loss to the undefeated Warren Blue Devils Saturday.

The Sequoits, who just two weeks ago were riding high with an eight-game win streak, have now lost five in a row. Antioch, 8-7, battled second-place Fenton Jan. 9 and will face 6-4 in the North Suburban Conference Jan. 11 and improving Lake Forest Jan. 13.

Christy Baker and Melissa Webster had 14 points each for the Blue Devils, who kept Antioch scoreless from the field until the 2:42 mark of the second quarter.

Jasmine Strange had 11 points.

"We were passing the ball very well. You could tell we were ready today," Campbell said.

Antioch was without leading scorer Liz Johnson, who missed the game because of family matters.

"We did not play our style," Antioch Coach Al Tamburrino said.

"Our whole approach, the way we play people, has really changed," said

An increasingly evident change in Libertyville has been the switch from a 1-3-1 defense to a man-zone defense. This change has enabled the Wildcats to mold a record of 6-4 in the north suburban conference and 9-7 overall.

And against Zion-Benton, Murphy said, "our defense really helped out. There were very few outright lay-ups."

But improved defense or not, Zion-Benton gave Libertyville a proverbial run for their money. The score tossed and turned with the Zee-bees leading in the first quarter 11-12 and the Wildcats coming back to lead 28-25 at the half.

"I thought it would be a close game," said an unsurprised Murphy.

It was in the second half, however, that Libertyville took control and steered to a victory. By the third quarter the score was Libertyville 42, Zion-Benton 36.

'90s start strong for wrestlers

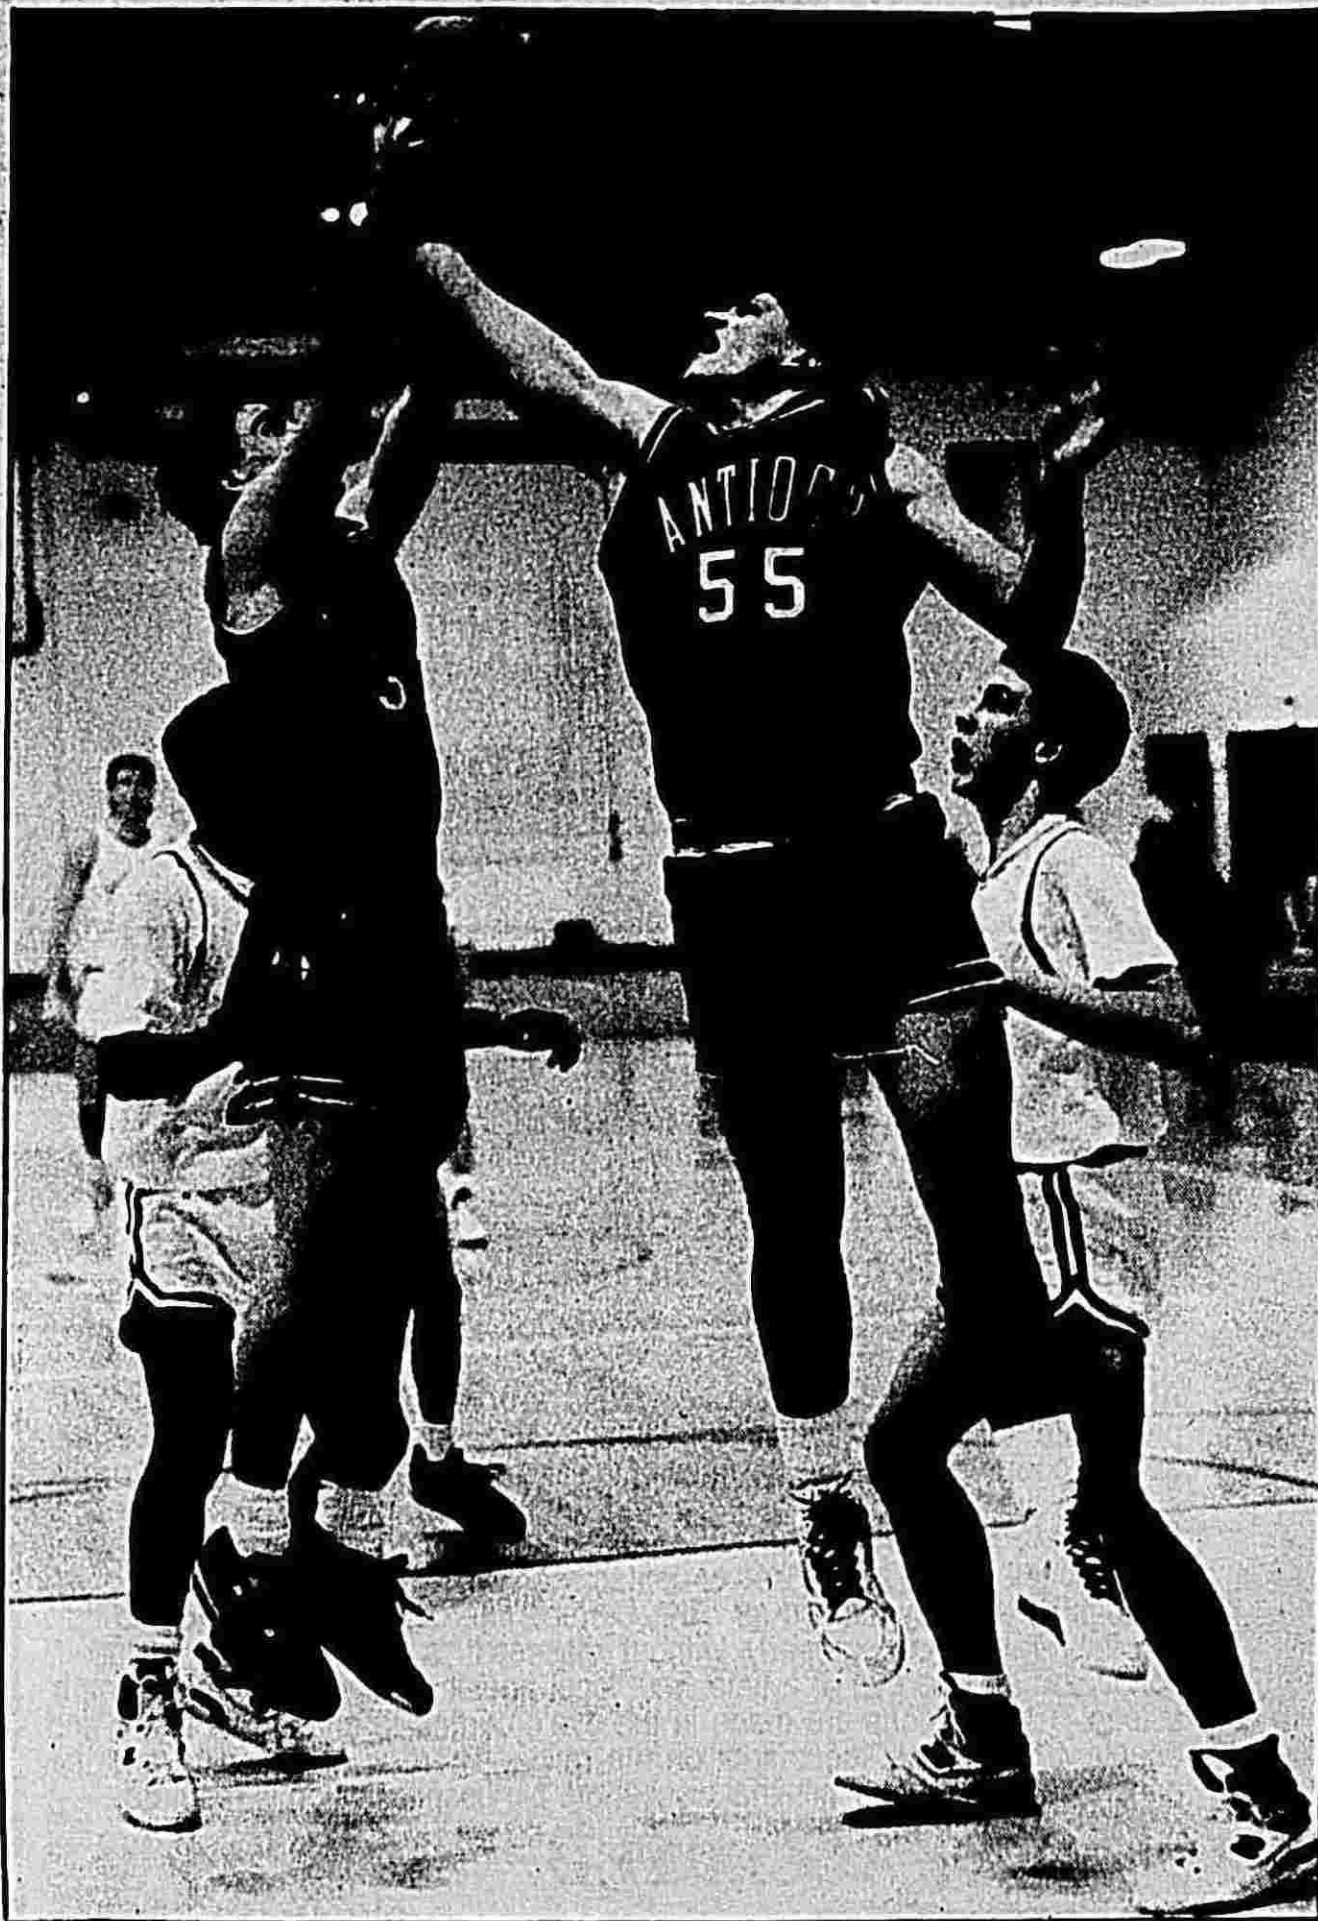

Antioch's wrestling team will be hoping 1990 continues its winning ways as the Sequoits have started the new decade with five straight dual meet wins.

Antioch is at Mundelein Jan. 12 and then hosts three teams -Waukegan East, Crystal Lake Central and Crystal Lake South Jan. 13 in non-conference action.

Antioch improved the record to 10-6-1 overall with three wins Saturday.

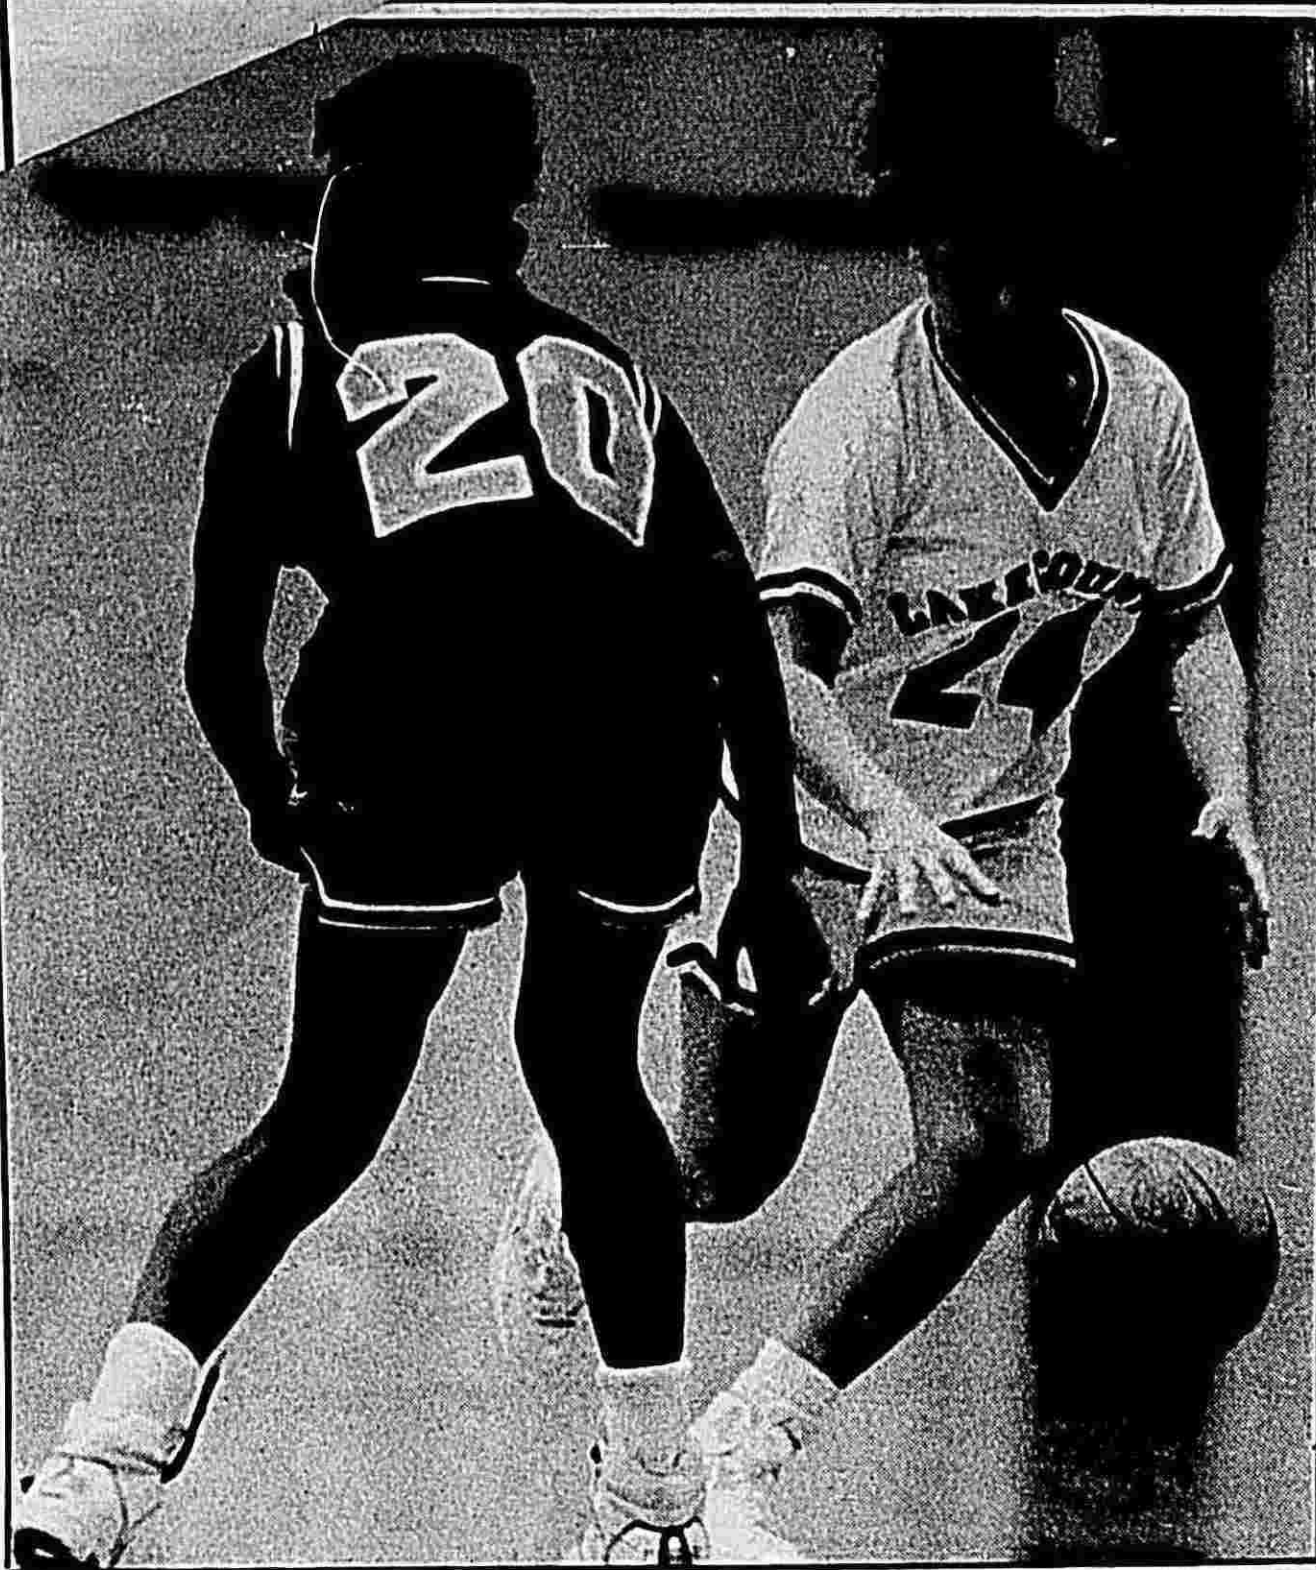

Earlier, the streak included both close and not-so-close wins.

The Sequoits edged Sandwich 31-30. Earning wins by decision were Tim Lehn at 140, and Adam Grinde at 189 pounds. Pins were earned by Greg Zalopi at 103 pounds, Jason Hyerdall at 2:32 at 125, George Valach at 3:50 at 145 and Matt Stedl at 152.

Same team

Antioch's Jeff Becker, and Matt Pelland, both strive for a rebound in North Suburban Conference game at Stevenson. Pelland led Antioch with 13 points but Sequoits fell 48-44. Antioch had edged North Chicago 48-44 the night before on a last-second three-pointer by Becker. Antioch hosts Mundelein Jan. 12 and is at Zion-Benton Jan. 13. - Photo by Steve Young.

CLC hoops teams shoot for fresh Skyway starts

College of Lake County's basketball teams are both hoping the Skyway Conference seasons will bring better results than non-conference play.

Both the men and the women finished under .500 in non-league play. The Skyway Conference action started at Elgin Jan. 9 and continues with the first home game against Truman Jan. 11. The women begin at 5 p.m.

Harper edged CLC 49-45 in overtime as the Lady Hawks made six of 10 free throws in the overtime.

"The story of the game was the free throws as we were 10-for-27," CLC women's coach Don Zeman said.

Harper, meanwhile, made 15-for-24.

The game was close throughout with CLC leading 24-22 at halftime.

The Lancers, 1-7, did show some bright spots. Crystal Payne had 18 rebounds and Teri Huntington 17. Huntington led with 15 points and Payne 13.

The game was the debut for Warren grad Jenny Marker, whom Zeman said will help in the conference race.

For the men, a heartbreaking 86-84 loss to Olive Harvey Saturday ended the non-league season.

CLC had tied the game before Olive Harvey made clutch free throws in the waning seconds.

The Lancers, 5-9, had to rally from 17 point deficits.

"We played decent in the second half but poor in the first half," Coach Bruce Smith said.

Corey Statham, a Warren grad, led the Lancers with 28 points. Greg Green contributed 21 and Nick Stianos 13.

As for as the conference goes, Smith pointed to Morton and Waubensee as Skyway favorites.

"Morton and Waubensee are lightening quick with pretty good size," Smith said.

Following the Truman doubleheader, the teams host Oakton Jan. 16 at the Grayslake campus with the women's game starting at 5 p.m.

Clinic features Power keepers

The second annual All-Pro Goalkeepers Clinic, co-sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park Dist. and Reusch-USA, under the direction of former Chicago Sting Coach Gary Hindley, is set for Jan. 21.

The clinic will be held from noon to 4 p.m. at Buffalo Grove High School, 1110 W. Dundee in Buffalo Grove.

The staff, in addition to Hindley, will feature Chicago Power goalkeepers Jay McCutcheon and Mark Simpson as well as several other local coaches. The session is a co-ed, player participation format with an accompanying coaches clinic. Each player, after a demonstration and explanation phase, will be able to practice the skills and techniques in a small group set up.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Can Nearsightedness Be Surgically Corrected?

ANSWER: Nearsightedness can often be corrected through a surgical procedure known as radial keratotomy. Nearsighted people see distant objects poorly because the corneas of their eyes are excessively curved or the eyeballs are elongated and light rays can't focus properly on the retina. Eyeglasses and contact lenses bend these light rays for proper focus but many people don't like glasses or contacts, or can't wear them.

Radial keratotomy, known as "RK", corrects the curve in the cornea so that the light rays focus properly without glasses. It is a 20 minute operation, conducted on one eye at a time, with local anesthesia and the patient lightly asleep. Tiny incisions are made in the eye's cornea to change its curve and enable it to properly focus light on the retina. There is no bleeding and the patient can expect only minimal discomfort. No hospitalization is required.

Controlling tempo key for CHS in ESCC tilt

By BRENT KILLACKEY
Lakeland Newspapers

"I think it was his best game," said Carmel Corsair's basketball Coach Scott Rosberg about center Sean Ryan.

Ryan, scoring 19 points, helped Carmel (7-7, 2-3) defeat visiting Weber (8-5) 57-54 Saturday in a non-conference match-up.

"He (Ryan) just kept working harder every time down," Rosberg said. "He was very active."

Carmel, however was not the only team to have a star unfold. Craig Pittmann scored 23 points for Weber and was a big reason why the final score remained so close.

"We got the kind of challenge that we wanted (on Pittmann), but he's such a great shooter," Rosberg said.

Deorsi Newell played an important role in covering Pittmann. "He was one kid who if we ever needed him to deny Pittmann the ball, he would do it," said Rosberg.

At several times the game became quite physical, causing the referees to talk with each coach before continuing play.

"It hurt that they were very physical," said Rosberg. "They have the bodies. If it's a physical game, it's going to go there way." But the Corsairs managed to eliminate the physical nature in the second half.

Carmel lead the game in the first half, but Weber came back, tying the score at 43 in the third quarter.

Strong free-throw shooting pulled Carmel ahead in the end. Carmel was 29-38 on the line while Weber was only 8-14.

"When we go to the line 20, 40 or 60 times in a game we're doing the job because we're getting the ball inside the prime scoring area," commented Rosberg.

With Carmel coming off of a loss to Notre Dame, the desire to win caused the game to become highly "emotional," Rosberg said.

Starting the play

College of Lake County's Jessica Elsner brings the ball upcourt against South Suburban. The Lancers are hoping for a fresh start in Skyway Conference play as they were 1-7 against non-league foes. CLC hosts Truman Jan. 11 and Oakton Jan. 14 in conference action. - Photo by Joe Shuman.

CLC hoops teams shoot for fresh Skyway starts

College of Lake County's basketball teams are both hoping the Skyway Conference seasons will bring better results than non-conference play.

Both the men and the women finished under .500 in non-league play. The Skyway Conference action started at Elgin Jan. 9 and continues with the first home game against Truman Jan. 11. The women begin at 5 p.m.

Harper edged CLC 49-45 in overtime as the Lady Hawks made six of 10 free throws in the overtime.

"The story of the game was the free throws as we were 10-for-27," CLC women's coach Don Zeman said.

Harper, meanwhile, made 15-for-24.

The game was close throughout with CLC leading 24-22 at halftime.

The Lancers, 1-7, did show some bright spots. Crystal Payne had 18 rebounds and Teri Huntington 17. Huntington led with 15 points and Payne 13.

The game was the debut for Warren grad Jenny Marker, whom Zeman said will help in the conference race.

For the men, a heartbreaking 86-84 loss to Olive Harvey Saturday ended the non-league season.

CLC had tied the game before Olive Harvey made clutch free throws in the waning seconds.

The Lancers, 5-9, had to rally from 17 point deficits. "We played decent in the second half but poor in the first half," Coach Bruce Smith said.

Corey Statham, a Warren grad, led the Lancers with 28 points. Greg Green contributed 21 and Nick Stianos 13.

As for as the conference goes, Smith pointed to Morton and Waubensee as Skyway favorites.

"Morton and Waubensee are lightening quick with pretty good size," Smith said.

Following the Truman doubleheader, the teams host Oakton Jan. 16 at the Grayslake campus with the women's game starting at 5 p.m.

Clinic features Power keepers

The second annual All-Pro Goalkeepers Clinic, co-sponsored by the Arlington Heights Park Dist. and Reusch-USA, under the direction of former Chicago Sting Coach Gary Hindley, is set for Jan. 21.

The clinic will be held from noon to 4 p.m. at Buffalo Grove High School, 1110 W. Dundee in Buffalo Grove.

The staff, in addition to Hindley, will feature Chicago Power goalkeepers Jay McCutcheon and Mark Simpson as well as several other local coaches. The session is a co-ed, player participation format with an accompanying coaches clinic. Each player, after a demonstration and explanation phase, will be able to practice the skills and techniques in a small group set up.

EYE CARE

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: Can Nearsightedness Be Surgically Corrected?

ANSWER: Nearsightedness can often be corrected through a surgical procedure known as radial keratotomy. Nearsighted people see distant objects poorly because the corneas of their eyes are excessively curved or the eyeballs are elongated and light rays can't focus properly on the retina. Eyeglasses and contact lenses bend these light rays for proper focus but many people don't like glasses or contacts, or can't wear them.

Radial keratotomy, known as "RK", corrects the curve in the cornea so that the light rays focus properly without glasses. It is a 20 minute operation, conducted on one eye at a time, with local anesthesia and the patient lightly asleep. Tiny incisions are made in the eye's cornea to change its curve and enable it to properly focus light on the retina. There is no bleeding and the patient can expect only minimal discomfort. No hospitalization is required.

Controlling tempo key for CHS in ESCC tilt

By BRENT KILLACKY
Lakeland Newspapers

"I think it was his best game," said Carmel Corsair's basketball Coach Scott Rosberg about center Sean Ryan.

Ryan, scoring 19 points, helped Carmel (7-7, 2-3) defeat visiting Weber (8-5) 57-54 Saturday in a non-conference match-up.

"He (Ryan) just kept working harder every time down," Rosberg said. "He was very active."

Carmel, however was not the only team to have a star unfold. Craig Pittmann scored 23 points for Weber and was a big reason why the final score remained so close.

"We got the kind of challenge that we wanted (on Pittmann), but he's such a great shooter," Rosberg said.

Deorsi Newell played an important role in covering Pittmann. "He was one kid who if we ever needed him to deny Pittmann the ball, he would do it," said Rosberg.

At several times the game became quite physical, causing the referees to talk with each coach before continuing play.

"It hurt that they were very physical," said Rosberg. "They have the bodies. If it's a physical game, it's going to go there way." But the Corsairs managed to eliminate the physical nature in the second half.

Carmel lead the game in the first half, but Weber came back, tying the score at 43 in the third quarter.

Strong free-throw shooting pulled Carmel ahead in the end. Carmel was 29-38 on the line while Weber was only 8-14.

"When we go to the line 20, 40 or 60 times in a game we're doing the job because we're getting the ball inside the prime scoring area," commented Rosberg.

With Carmel coming off of a loss to Notre Dame, the desire to win caused the game to become highly "emotional," Rosberg said.

Panthers regain top spot Standings

Round Lake regained its winning ways with a win over Lake Zurich and also regained the top spot in the Lakeland Newspapers rankings for this week.

The top five:

1. Round Lake: despite an early second-quarter injury to Mark Dittmer, the Panthers top Lake Zurich 68-58. Dave Burton contributes 20 points. Next: Round Lake, 13-1 overall, is at Grant Jan. 12.

2. Richmond-Burton: wins over Huntley and Valley Lutheran after a long layoff propel the Rockets to 12-1 overall, 5-1 in the Big Eight Conference. Roger Hauri had a big weekend, scoring 18 and 25 points in the two wins. Next: Rockets host Hampshire in BEC game Jan. 12.

3. Libertyville: the Wildcats slipped against Lake Forest, losing a 10-game win streak and suffering their first North Suburban loss 58-53 at home. Clutch free-throws in the fourth quarter paced Lake Forest. Shawn Stanek was limited to 13 points. Next: Wildcats, 11-2 overall, are at North Chicago Jan. 12 and Stevenson Jan. 13.

4. Stevenson: the Pats are enjoying a double-win NSC weekend which propelled them into a first place tie. Pats, 9-4 overall, used a 15 point game from Todd Wales and 14 points from Chris Coleman to top Antioch 48-44 after holding back Zion-Benton. Next: Pats host Libertyville in tough league test Jan. 12.

5. Lake Zurich: Bears had to play without starting guard Jack Denny against Round Lake, as he is injured until the end of February. But Bears, 7-5 overall and 3-1 in the NWSC, behind Jeff Anderson's 16 points and Scott Paschall's 13 points, gave a respectable showing. Next: Bears host Johnsbury in NWSC tilt Jan. 12 before traveling to Jacobs Jan. 13.

Carmel's Baczek hopes to help Wildcats soon

When the Big Ten schools publish their media guides for the next football season, one high school will appear at least in three publications.

Carmel's Todd Baczek will be joining Randy Bierman at Illinois and Jeff Zgonia at Purdue as he has verbally accepted a scholarship from Northwestern. The formal signing will take place next month.

"I was impressed most with the players and head Coach Francis Peay," Baczek, a Grayslake resident, said.

Baczek was an all-East Suburban Catholic Conference performer the last two years, as an offensive lineman in his junior year and on defense last year. The Corsairs made the playoffs both years, advancing to the quarterfinal round in Class 5a last fall. Baczek and his parents visited Northwestern this weekend and the decision was made.

Baczek, a 6-4, 250 pound lineman, said making the decision takes the pressure off. Baczek can now concentrate on his role as heavyweight for the Carmel wrestling team. He said he may consider wrestling for the Wildcats.

Baczek has been one of the most successful Carmel wrestlers. This season, he was undefeated until the championship match of the Lake County meet held at Waukegan West. He is aiming for a state tournament bid to cap off his Carmel sports career.

The Wildcats were winless last year. Plans are for Baczek to be a defensive tackle.

"You have to be devoted because you are here two, three or four hours a day after school," Baczek said of his Carmel career.

Baczek said he looked up to pro lineman Howie Long after watching 30-minute tapes of Long at football camp.

"I'm real happy for him," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said.

Fitzgibbons only big, fast and skilled players get Division I scholarships.

"You have to have the size. The rest of it is heart," Fitzgibbons said, noting Baczek played every down.

Baczek was one of several Corsairs who made up the "St. Gilbert Connection" on the Carmel squad, players who graduated from the Catholic grade school.

Carmel was 6-4 in Baczek's junior year, making the playoffs for the first time before losing to Zion-Benton. Notre Dame eliminated Carmel, 9-3, in the quarterfinals in November.

Muskie fishermen hear veteran angler's tips

Lake County Muskie fishermen will be able to hear one of the veterans in the field when Larry Ramsell brings his 35 years of Muskie hunting to the Patio Restaurant & Lounge in Antioch Jan. 17.

At the top of Ramsell's records is a 44 pound, four ounce lunker caught in 1988 which also netted him a line class world record and a fifth largest fish caught by a Muskie Inc. member. His hunting efforts have carried him to most of North America's fishing waters, including Lake of the Woods, Eagle Lake, Wabiggon, Dryberry in Canada and Lech, MN, and many others.

A social hour will be held at 5:30 p.m. with chapter business at 7:30 p.m. and Ramsell's talk at 8 p.m.

On Jan. 13 at Petite Lake, a fishing competition for young fishermen will be held. Some 65 children participated last year, according to Dave Pikel. Prizes, including rod and reel sets, will be given.

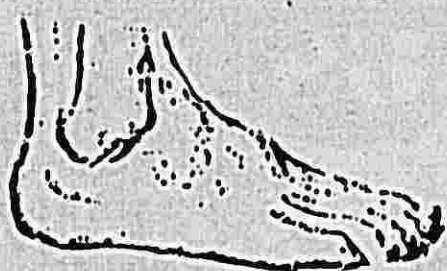

Muskies will be caught and released in accord with the Muskie, Inc. program. Emphasizing the sportsmanship of fishing, the release program has seen 50 inch fish released.

Purposes of Muskie, Inc., founded in 1966, include:

- to maintain records of habits, growth and range of species;
- to disseminate

- Muskellunge information;
- to promote good fellowship and sportsmanship among men, women and children.

IMSA rep to visit schools

Ms. Judy Quick, admissions counselor at Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy, will be speaking at Barrington High School Jan. 29 and at the College of Lake County in Grayslake Jan. 30. The meetings will begin at 7 p.m. An overview of the academic and residential programs will be provided along with information about admission to the Academy. Students, parents and educators are invited to attend.

In September of 1986, Illinois opened a new school for some of its most talented secondary students. Today, IMSA has grown to its full three-year program serving approximately 500 students from throughout the state. All students live on campus and are enrolled in a rigorous academic program and at the same time participate in a full range of school activities. Tuition and most room and board costs are provided.

Students were selected to attend the academy on the basis of previous school performance, test scores, extra-curricular activities and letters of recommendation from former teachers.

Illinois is one of only six states in the United States to offer a public residential program for its most gifted students. The trend, however, is growing. Delegations from many other states have visited IMSA during its first years and legislation is in various stages of approval in several other states at this time.

For additional information, write Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy, Office of Admissions, 1500 W. Sullivan Rd., Aurora, IL 60506-1039, or call (708)801-6027.

STEER THIS WAY

Wayne Hoepner

The major difference between premium and regular gasoline is the octane rating. Regular's the better buy if you don't need the antiknock properties of premium.

Is your battery fully charged? Cold weather weakens batteries by slowing down their chemical reaction. Even a good battery is not at top efficiency below freezing.

Don't use household detergent for washing your car; it's too strong, and can leave chalky-looking streaks. Choose soap made for the purpose, and mix it with cold water, not hot.

★★★

If your car starts to skid, steer in the direction of the skid; this puts it back in line. Take your foot off the accelerator, but don't start braking until the car slows and wheels have traction.

Older drivers do better behind the wheel if they're physically fit, say researchers at West Virginia University. They found better joint flexibility, improved performance.

Law gives Yastrow tool to ensure childrens' safety

Children riding buses to and from school in Lake County will be safer in 1990 because of an anti-drug law affecting school bus drivers, Regional Supt.

Offices Closed

All Secretary of State offices and facilities will be closed for Martin Luther King Day, Secretary of State Jim Edgar has announced.

of Schools Dr. Sybil Yastrow said.

Effective immediately, all applicants for new or renewed school bus driver permits must prove that they have passed tests for drug and alcohol use within 90 days of the date of application, according to a directive just received by the Regional Superintendent's Office.

"This authorization gives my office an additional tool to ensure that the estimated 68,000 children who ride school buses in Lake County do so in safety," Supt. Yastrow said.

The Regional Superintendent's Office has been responsible for determining the competence and physical fitness of school bus drivers in the past, "but until this week we have lacked statutory authorization to require drug testing," Yastrow added.

Such authorization was provided by the Illinois legislation in House Bill 572, which was supported by the Illinois Assn. of Regional Superintendents of Schools and passed into law with an effective date of Jan. 1, 1990.

"In school transportation, there is nothing more important than the bus driver's fitness," Yastrow said. "We make sure they have been trained and tested for driving competence and ar properly licensed.

"Now an important new requirement has been added, and we intend to hold up the issuance of all permits from now on until documentation is provided by a licensed physician that each bus driver applicant has been tested for drug use, as the law says."

House Bill 572 was sponsored by State Rep. Larry Wennlund, R-New Lenox, in the House, and by Sen Aldo DeAngelis, R-Chicago Heights, in the Senate.

Supt. Yastrow is an active member of the Illinois Assn. of Regional Superintendents of Schools, a statewide organization seeking to strengthen Illinois public policy on education.

"We are always working in the interest of school children," Supt. Yastrow said.

"But there is nothing more important than their safety in the schools and on school transportation, and this legislation represents progress in that area."
